Bull to the office of Secretary, whose duties will be confined to elevators here and Jeffersonville, and to grading to the new standard of grades. It is believed a copy of the official section taken, and will no doubt prove satisfactory to all.

Received, That on and after January 1, 1881, under the rules as at present, the standard grades of wheat may be mixed half and half in the elevators, under the supervision of the Grain Inspectors, and that elevator receipts and certificates of inspection of grain so mixed be considered as regular on contracts.

THE UNION LEAGUE.

A Resolution Adopted Perpetuating the Organization—Investigating Alleged Registration Frauds.

The regular monthly meeting of the Union League was held last evening at the rooms, on Fifth and Market streets, President Baker in the chair, and about twenty members present.

The following-named gentlemen were, on motion, admitted as members: C. F. Joy, James O'Broadwell, T. C. Dutro, Adolphus Busch and Samuel Bonner.

The matter of the alleged frauds concerning the robust registration continued to be considered. Mr. Hewitt, from the special committee appointed to look into the action of Board of Revisers, said he thought it was the duty of the club to make some investigation. If the Board had been guilty of gross violations of the law in striking names from the registration lists, he favored active and immediate measures.

President Baker thought nothing would redound more to the benefit of the club than to investigate the alleged frauds.

PERPETUATING THE LEAGUE.

Mr. Pearce offered a resolution, to the effect that the club perpetuate its existence and develope its strength, as a party, in detail, and following as election the "machine," or rather the national, state and local committees, of a party go into a quasi-defunct condition, or, in other words, in sleep, until the next election. The time to perfect the organization of a party, strengthen its influences and impress its doctrines to them outside of it, was, when the country was quiet. The club could, then, was, what organization could do all this? Mr. Pearce believed it was within the scope of the club's purposes and duties, and upon it devolved the labor of purifying the existing system of party politics.

Mr. Pope did not think the resolution necessary, as it had been generally understood that when organized the club was to be a permanent institution.

The resolution was unanimously adopted, however, and the discussion was resumed on

THE REGISTRATION FRAUDS.

Mr. Pearce suggested that an advertisement should be put in the daily papers, requesting all persons who were sickened off the registration books to send their names to the Secretary of the League. He was certain there would be a hearty response.

Mr. Irwin Z. Smith moved that funds be raised to defray the expenses of prosecuting persons who have illegally deprived legal voters of their rights to vote, and, on motion of Mr. Jonasson, seconded.

A SUBCOMMITTEE

was adopted for a committee, composed of the President of the League and four other members, who are lawyers, to conduct a prosecution against any and all persons who have illegally disfranchised voters, and to employ an attorney to attend to the case. Messrs. Pope, Peace, Pope and Chester H. Krum were appointed in the committee.

The Secretary was instructed to prepare and send to President-elect Garfield a congratulatory letter on the result of the election and the triumph of the Republican party, especially in Missouri.

Some minor business was transacted, after which the League adjourned.

Nihilist Teachings.

A Nihilist teacher, from the vicinity of Kiev, in Lintsland, preaches as follows to his followers: "When you are tempted to commit crime the fear of God, and from the childish reasons of the fathers of the Church, will be your guide; children when bind you, and which are called science, civilization, progress, marriage, morality and justice will snap asunder like threads. Our first work must be the destruction and annihilation of everything as it now exists. You must destroy yourselves by the fire of everything—the good with the bad for if but an atom of the old world remains, the new can never be created." Should this doctrine prevail the world will be transformed into Hell in life worth living for. Buck's New Brilliant Stove, through its superiority, would be concerned with the commonplace.

A SILLY HOAX.

The Reported Attempt to Assassinate President Hayes.

A special telegram from Kansas City to the Chicago News, to the effect that an attempt was made upon the life of President Hayes as the train on which the Presidential party were traveling came into the Kansas City station, on the Santa Fe Road, was a very shallow effort to get up a sensation. A statement to the same effect appeared in the Sedalia Bazoo a day or two ago, but the name of the alleged assassin was different from that given in the Kansas City dispatch. The holder shot at President Hayes at Muscotah, Atchison County, Kan., on the 31st of October, and made its escape.

Mr. David Martin, of Atchison, Kan., called at the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT office last night, and requested a denial of the report. He wished it to be understood that Kansas is not a place where political assassinations are practiced. The only foundation for the story was that about the time named a man named Frehold tried to shoot at the President from one of the branches of the Santa Fe road, while the train was passing. The man dest Hayes and his party traveled on, which was the road from Sunday night, October 31, and shooting was on the road from Topeka to Atchison. If the President had been fired at in the manner stated in the dispatch to the Chicago News, the report would not have been made in Kansas City, and it is certain that the assassin would, are now, have been tried, convicted and hanged for the crime. Mr. Martin, who is a leading citizen of Atchison, Kansas, and a subscriber to the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT reporter, and stated that the reported attempt at assassination was the wildest kind of a canard. Mr. Flich had for his guest from Sunday night, October 31, until Friday, November 5, Gen. Sherman, Miss Rachel Sherman and Mrs. Anderson, who came to St. Louis after parting company with the President and his party at Hutchinson. No one was spoken during this time about the assassination having been made at the President's life; on the contrary, Gen. Sherman said the party had passed through the country, and especially through the Indian nation, without the slightest molestation. Gen. Sherman said, in conversation, that it was not down in the rumor, in which she was cautioned with a "Sunday Morning" letter, was in excellent health and the best of spirits, and that Mr. Hayes, Mr. Sherman, visited the theaters several times, and never even hinted at any occurrence to disturb her nerves during her transcontinental trip.

ALTHOUGH many are predisposed to lung troubles from birth, yet even such may escape consumption, or other pulmonary or bronchial disease, if due care and watchfulness be observed and all exciting causes are promptly treated at the first sign. It is in these cases Dr. Jayne's Expectorant exercises its most beneficial effects, and has produced its largest proportion of its cures. Besides promptly removing congestion and colds, which, when neglected, are themselves, are the immediate causes of tuberculous developments, this standard remedy allays any inflammation which may exist, and by promoting easy expectoration cleanses the lungs of the substances which clog them up and which rapidly destroy when suffered to remain.

Caught in Their Crookedness.

Edward Tirift and James May, both colored, were overhauled in their crooked work yesterday evening, by Officer Mansfield and Private Watchman Timothy O'Connell, and locked up in the Central Station. About 5 o'clock Mr. Thrift and May met a stranger upon the Levee, near Locust street, halted him and demanded his money. One of the negroes was armed, and as the other was about to search his pockets, he raised a loud cry and ran to a neighboring saloon, where he took refuge. A half hour had not elapsed before the stranger from the same locality, which attracted the attention of the officers, who, on approaching the saloon, found two negroes brutally assaulting Charles Reynolds, a white man, who was unconsciously on the Levee. All three parties were taken to the Chestnut Street Station, where Reynolds was found to be badly bruised. He was badly robbed about the head, and was bleeding profusely from a dozen or more ugly cuts. The double charge of assault and battery and petit larceny will be preferred against the prisoners.

Watching the Weather.

The weather yesterday was cool, clear and agreeable. The morning shower increased and deepened the stum which covered the streets, and in some localities they were almost bottomless. The thermometer at 7 a. m. registered 46° at 10 a. m. 48°, and at 3 p. m. 54°. The Weather Bureau reports that the barometer is very low in the Northwest, where a storm is now prevailing. Probabilities for to-day are that the weather will be cold and cloudy, with occasional rains, followed by cold northwest winds before night. At 8 p. m. yesterday the temperature at the Bureau was: Cheyenne, 30°; Denver, 31°; Dodge City, 32°; in Kansas City, 40°; Leavenworth, 40°; Memphis, 57°; Omaha, 36°; Sacramento, 47°; Salt Lake, 22°; Fort Smith, 51°; Virginia City, 31°; Yankton, 36°.

No News from New Mexico.

The assistant superintendent of Office Gore—for no dispatch was received from him yesterday—has resulted in the formation of two theories regarding the reason why Gore failed to use Meldor after Charles Sanders, Officer Prints's murderer. One theory is—and the more probable one—that Jones and the United States officers of Santa Fe are on the trail of the supposed fugitives, and have as yet accomplished nothing. The other is that Gore, Meldor and Jones had not been allowed, yesterday, under surveillance, when Jones left St. Louis. The other theory is that Meldor and Jones, if they and, if he is the right one, has started back from with him; or, if he is not thought one, has started home alone. He was told not to return without Sanders, and, if he has not succeeded individual was sanders, but was also told not to come home empty-handed, on account of the extravagant charges. He has already exceeded that in reasonable fees for his safety, and may have concluded that it would be advisable to return to St. Louis without increasing expenses any further.

BROKEN BANK "ASSETS."

Auction Sale of the North St. Louis Savings Association.

Yesterday morning the last nail was driven in the coffin of the old and once prosperous North St. Louis Savings Association. This banking institution in its palmy days was one of the largest and most successful of the German banks in the city. After a desperate struggle from 1873 to 1877 it made an assignment in August, 1877, to Mr. John H. Dieckmann, who took upon his shoulders the affairs of the estate have been most diligently and faithfully administered by Mr. Dieckmann, and upon the aggregate of about $600,000 he has already paid dividends amounting to about 45 per cent of a sum equal to the amount of the assignment it will probably be about 50 per cent. Assets of a bank go to the creditors of the bank, and, if the assets are sufficient to pay the creditors, the stockholders are undisposed of. The effect of the sale was to the largest degree satisfactory to the assignee and to the creditors generally. The attendance at the sale was quite large and lively.

The well known Bank Building, on St. Louis Place, was bid off for $5,300, this being about $1,300 more than any private offer heretofore made. About 10,000 acres of land in Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, in Washington, Hillsboro, Texas, Wayne, Carter and Reynolds Counties were sold at prices from 4 to 40 cents per acre.

Some of the enormous losses of the bank were exposed in the sale of old and uncollectable notes and judgments for the amount of the "assets" about $1,000 was realized, which was so much money found. Many times have passed since the maturity of these claims, and being uncollectable by process of law or otherwise, the price paid was too high rather than too low.

The sales will be reported to Judge Lindley, of the Circuit Court this morning, and will undoubtedly be approved. The assignee will probably pay the final dividend of two per cent in two weeks.

Doyle's Singular Death.

About 1 o'clock Sunday morning two policemen found Pat Doyle lying drunk on the sidewalk at the corner of Second and Convent streets. He said upon being interrogated that he boarded at the South Broadway House. Pat fell to the bottom, landed on his head, and sustained concussion of the brain, which resulted in his death. At 3 o'clock the dead body was found about 5 o'clock by the police and removed to the Morgue. Coroner Ashby held an inquest on the body a short time, which accorded with the facts as above stated. Deceased was 35 years of age, single, and an employee of one of the gas-houses.

A Conflagration Prevented.

In a shed at 928 North Fifth street, Mr. Joseph Tockesh had an engine and a lot of the kerosene refinish stored, and last night he took a lamp and went to the shed to draw some of the oil. He opened the lamp and set fire to the oil, which was saturated with the inflammable fluid, and he was only too lucky to get out of the tenement of Officer Tom Boyd which prevented a conflagration as it was, not much damage was done.

MR. WM. LOWERY, foreman Suffolk Manufacturing Company, 301 Washington street, Boston, thus spoke of the use of Ayer's Cherry: "One of our men had been suffering with severe cough, and was so hoarse he could not speak. He used a number of remedies without relief, and at last was persuaded to try St. Jacobs Oil, which entirely cured him. I can highly recommend it, as by its use I have cured other of our employes have been cured."

The Horse Epidemic.

Special dispatch to the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT.

NOKOMIS, ILL., November 8.—The epizootic has become an epidemic in this part of Montgomery county. Mr. Ed. Ellis, of the GLOBE-DEMOCRAT reporter, and stated that the reported attempt at assassination was the wildest kind of a canard. Mr. Flich had for his guest from Sunday night, October 31, until Friday, November 5, Gen. Sherman, Miss Rachel Sherman and Mrs. Anderson, who came to St. Louis after parting company with the President and his party at Hutchinson.
