

Duties of Motor Corps Outlined

Rabbi Greenburg Explains Policy

Definite policy of the Red Cross Motor Corps was outlined this morning for the first time to the 50 members by Rabbi William Greenburg, newly-elected president of the local Red Cross chapter at a called meeting held at Red Cross headquarters.

Members of the Motor Corps were graduated recently after completing the standard first aid course, the advanced first aid course, the mechanic training and the 100 hours of volunteer work.

Mrs. John Labourer, head of the volunteer section for the Red Cross, spoke briefly at the meeting and urged complete cooperation of the women.

FOLLOWS POLICY
Rabbi Greenburg, in setting forth the policy, explained that it was designed for the Red Cross County Chapter Motor Corps following the requirements of the National Red Cross.

Because of the dire emergency, the women will be required to give eighteen hours of service a week instead of the original 50 hours.

"You may be sure," Rabbi Greenburg said, "that when you are called on by the local office, it will be a matter of necessity. You will be expected to cooperate unless it is absolutely impossible."

He also announced that a captain for the Motor Corps will be elected by the executive board of Red Cross at an early date. Mrs. Wade Montgomery, who was captain of the Corps, has resigned.

VARIOUS DUTIES
Among the duties of the Corps as outlined in the policy are the collection and distribution of material and garments for War Relief, the provision of routine transportation for supplies and chapter workers, the assistance in transportation of instructors and equipment for workers and material during Red Cross and other campaigns, the provision of transportation for convalescents at the request of the hospitals, the transportation of children to hospitals and doctors' offices, the provision of transportation for nurses, first aid, and water safety staff members in times of epidemic and disaster, serving at parades and public gatherings; transportation in connection with Blood Plasma program; and the serving in any capacity otherwise passed as acceptable to the executive committee as a service to the chapter.

Other duties in times of disaster, such as the driving of ambulances, were also read by Rabbi Greenburg.

After the policy was read, a general discussion was held about uniforms and other necessary items.

Hospital Treatment: The Women's Ward At Morganton

This series of articles was written by a young woman who was a patient at the State Hospital for a year and a half ending in December, 1940. She is a member of a prominent state family, was educated at Queens College, and was sent to the institution because of a nervous condition. A cultured, refined and sensitive, her experiences there and what she saw with her own eyes make a shocking story.

She is known to The News but her name, for evident reasons, is withheld. There are nine installments in her story, of which this is the seventh.

SHOCK TREATMENT GIVEN IN ROOM WITH OTHERS

Never shall I forget that day in the hospital. That morning, to induce a convulsion, the doctor, a nervous patient was given a narco-anesthetic treatment, which is a form of insulin shock. A gag was placed in her mouth to prevent her from chewing her tongue. She began frothing at the mouth. She rolled her eyes to the back of her head and flapped her body like a fish out of water. To keep her from falling, a nurse and two patients held her firmly on the bed.

In mid-afternoon our room was searching hot. We had no shades at our windows and the glaring sunlight poured in.

Miss Martin, the paralytic, whispered to me, "Little girl, won't you please come here and move the linen on her bed. Martha

Cheerful Negro Winks At Gas Chamber Crowd

Goes to Death in Raleigh Prison; Helps Guard Strap Arm Chair

RALEIGH.—(AP)—A "bright and cheerful" Negro who winked at witnesses as he was led to the gas chamber at Central Prison here this Friday, was executed by hanging.

The Negro was 28-year-old Robert Sturdivant, convicted in Anson County of murdering his wife with an axe.

Sturdivant, described by Prison Chaplain Lawrence A. Watts as "the most hopeful and cheerful person that has been confined to death row in my experience," grinned broadly while he was being strapped into the chair in the gas chamber.

Just To Be Sure

LOS ANGELES.—(P)—Eighteen-year-old Willard Reese isn't supposed to drive over 35 miles an hour for a year, under the terms of Judge Harold Landreth's ruling in a traffic court case.

And Willard won't.

The judge ordered a government-installed on the youth's automobile.

FARMERS MEET IN CHESTER

CHESTER, S. C.—A county-wide farmers' meeting will be held at the Chester County Courthouse Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. County Agent Monroe C. Crain announced today. Agricultural specialists of Clemson College will discuss the agricultural outlook, fertilizer problems, farm machinery repairs, etc.

Household War Saving Classes Set

YW To Sponsor Economy Lessons

Classes in household war economy will be held at the Young Women's Christian Association Building beginning Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock for members and those interested in attending.

Mrs. Hugh E. Hovis, food expert for the Federal Government, will speak at the first meeting on "Nutrition and Food Planning at a Low Cost."

The classes will be conducted under the sponsorship of the public affairs committee of the YW, of which Mrs. Francis Clarkson is chairman.

Second class will be held Feb. 19 at 10:30 o'clock, when Mrs. Dora Anderson of Queens College will discuss "Buying and Care of Materials for Clothing and Household Linens," and a traffic expert will speak on "Lengthening the Life of Your Car."

A third class will be held Feb. 24 at 10:30 o'clock. Speakers will be Miss Betty Spough of the Public Power Company whose subject will be "The Preservation of Your Household Electrical Equipment Which Cannot Be Replaced," and a local plumber who will talk on "The Care of Plumbing."

A final class will meet Feb. 26 at 10:30 o'clock, when Dr. Irene Kosove will talk on "The Physical Care of the Family," and Dr. James M. Godard of Queens College will speak on "Keeping Up the Morale of the Home From the Psychological Viewpoint."

Reservists Are Called to Army

Three additional Charlotte Reservists have received orders to report for active duty with the Army, according to information today reaching the headquarters here of the Organized Reserve instructor for North Carolina.

First Lieutenant Vernon E. Fuller, Ordnance Reserve, of 938 Harris Road, had been ordered to report on Feb. 18 for duty at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Second Lieutenant Wendell Ross Gill of 1718 Park Drive and Second Lieutenant Robert Miles Gill of 2017 E. Fifth Street, brothers, have been ordered to report on Feb. 18 at Fort McPherson, Ga.

TUBERCULAR PATIENTS LIVE WITH OTHERS

There is a separate T. B. ward for T. B. patients in the State Hospital but not all of them are in this ward. They are scattered helter-skelter on many wards.

I remember one day I gave an attractive young man a cup of water and drinking water from it. Not far from my hospital ward, a friend of mine was ill in a room with several other patients, some of them with syphilis. A husky syphilitic patient came in to give her a bath in a water pan. She had just bathed the other patients in the room in the same water, so my friend said she believed she was too weak for a bath that morning.

Several months later this syphilitic died of her dread disease. Syphilis patients are to be found throughout the hospital waiting on the tables, working in the laundry, eating, sleeping, and bathing with the other patients.

There was one who had lost all her hair the year before from the disease, and she carried trays several months while I was there before she broke out in open sores and was confined.

HERE is a puzzling little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is six or more subtract four. If the number is less than six, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Concert Is Tomorrow, Not Feb. 25

Attention Called To Change in Dates

Members of the Charlotte Community Concert Association, which quite properly presents both Bittl's brilliant Brazilian squaw, and Charles Kullman, celebrated New England tenor, at the Army Auditorium at 8:15 o'clock tomorrow night, are asked to take note that tomorrow night's concert takes the place of the one originally scheduled for Feb. 25. Tomorrow night's concert is not additional, but represents a change of dates merely. There will be no concert on the 25th and tickets for that time will be used for tomorrow night.

Both singers are among the Metropolitan top-flight stars and their appearance here is regarded as being a big musical event of the season. It became possible to bring Mr. Kullman into the program only after the season's program had been made and an adjustment became necessary. In order to secure him the date of the concert had to be changed, but the Association considered that with several arrangements to that effect having been made no confusion will result from it.

The Everyday Counselor

By REV. HERBERT SPAUGH

For personal reply please send self-addressed and stamped envelope

The best of generosity is not what is given, but what is left.

The largest gift so far made by any American to our war effort came from a 78-year-old man, Rowell G. Tompkins, invalid, hospital patient, gave all the money that he had—$400.

"It isn't much," he said, "but it is all I've got, and I want it to go to the Los Angeles Examiner's Bomber Fund." He then handed over a faded Government check dated January 25, 1918.

"This meant more to me than just a dollar, and I intended to keep it forever. You see it is a token payment the Navy gave me when I let them my grandfather's binoculars during the First World War."

"Grandad used those glasses in the Civil War. The Navy used them on a transport during the World War, and returned them to me later. If they are any use in this war, the Government's welfare to 'em again."

"But the reason Carrie and I, that my wife kept the check so long was the signature on 'Eyes of the Navy' certificate that came with it. Take a look at it."

He then presented a certificate signed "My Department, by the Assistant Secretary, Franklin D. Roosevelt."

The money wasn't much, but it was all that this old man had, so it is termed the "Largest contribution any American has yet made in the War Effort." No man can give more than his all. The term "Widow's Mite" comes from the story told by Christ of the widow who cast "Two mites," into the temple treasury—her all.

The interesting part of the story of this generous act of Rowell Tompkins is that a member of the Examiner's staff traded the Bomber Fund a dollar for this check and is returning it to its original owner.

God gave His all for mankind when He sent His son into the world. Christ gave Him all his life for a sin-sick world. Those who accept Him as Saviour must give their all to Him. They will find their gifts coming back.

"Knowing that whatever good thing any man doeth, the same shall be receive of the Lord."

Ex-Charlottean On China Radio

Many North Carolinians are recognizing a familiar voice when James L. Stewart, Associated Press correspondent in Chungking, China, broadcasts at intervals on the CBS international news roundup.

Stewart was born in Durham, N. C., and became resident of Charlotte, where he graduated from Duke in 1933 after serving as editor of The Chronicle, Duke student newspaper. After his graduation he worked for the Japan Advertising and was assigned to the AP staff in China. He is said to be the only American correspondent who has been in Chungking since the former Charlottean has been broadcasting since the opening of the Burma Road in February 1940. He has lived in Chungking for several years. Born in Kobe, Japan, of missionary parents, Stewart speaks and writes Japanese, and he is also familiar with Chinese. He married several years ago an American doctor in the American Hospital at Tokyo. A sister, Miss Lillian Stewart, is a resident of Durham.
