Axis Squeezed From Both Sides Of Tunisian Front

U. S. AIRMEN HIT FIRST BLOW AT GERMANY

Nazis Rolled Back By U. S. Tunisia Force

British Move Steadily Toward Border Against Rommel Rear Guard

LONDON. — (AP) — Allied offensives squeezed the Axis from both sides of the Tunisian front today. Communiques reported United States forces cracking through German defenses in the Ousseltia Valley sector and the British Eighth Army fighting its way steadily toward the British border from Tripoli against Marshal Rommel's battered rear guard.

The Americans announced the capture of prisoners and places of tactical importance covering the important mountain pass between the British and the Ousseltia Valley. The British rolled the Nazis back through the rain-mired central Tunisian battle-front from positions wrested last week from the French.

CONSOLIDATE POSITIONS

The British were being consolidated, an Allied spokesman said, at the North African headquarters.

Germans Doomed In Stalingrad Area

Forces, Whittled Down to 12,000, Given Short Time To Live

LONDON. — (AP) — A Soviet Uskue of doom lay today on 12,000 German troops caught in two pockets in front of Stalingrad, the starving, freezing remnants of Hitler's armies once numbered at 220,000 men who were surrounded and then slashed to bits by the Red Army.

A time limit for their extinction was set by the Russians in a special communiqué—two to three days.

"The history of wars has never known the encirclement and annihilation of such a large army by regular troops restricted to the limit with modern military equipment," the Russians set forth in the war bulletin, as recorded by the Soviet radio Moscow. "The complete victory they claim over the besiegers of Stalingrad."

"We have not yet liquidated two entire armies, separated and isolated from each other, totaling in all no more than 12,000 men, one to the north of Stalingrad and the other to the central part of the city. The two armies are doomed and their liquidation only a question of two or three days."

Russians listed 40,000 of the force killed since its leaders declined to surrender Jan. 10 and said 28,000 had been taken prisoners, mostly from the highway for the war's duration.

The communiqué, which gave the power to expand or decrease the speed limit at the request of Federal authorities.

Since the advent of the rubber shortage, the State Highway Patrol and other law enforcement officers have been without authority to exceed a speed limit of 35 miles an hour but the legislative hoppers today.

Representatives of Washington and Askew of Pamlico introduced a bill to prohibit an automobile from moving faster than 35 miles an hour on the highway for the war's duration.

In a regular communiqué early today, also recorded by the Soviet monitor, the Russians said their forces had captured a 450-mile front from Vinnitsa on the upper Don River to Amur in the upper Caucasus.

Reserve forces, bolstered by tanks, are being massed by the Germans on the approaches to Rostov, the Russians reported.

The early war bulletin told of the Soviet forces moving toward the Caucasus, one of the largest populated place where the German defense in depth was reported broken by the Allies.

The success claimed by the Russians also marked the resumption of uninterrupted Russian use of the roads out of Stalingrad and toward the lines at Salsk, Tatsinskaya and Vorovska.

Big Bombers Make Heavy Assault on Axis Heart

U-Boat Centers Main Targets

LONDON. — (AP) — United States heavy bombers, Flying Fortresses and Liberators, attacked naval installations in Germany today. It was authoritatively announced.

It was the United States Army Air Force's first attack on the German homeland.

It was believed that German U-boat centers particularly were chosen for the attack.

Just what part of the Reich was hit was not disclosed. A United States Headquarters communiqué said: "The United States Air Force Flying Fortresses (B-17s) and Liberators (B-24s) attacked naval installations in Germany today."

While the targets were not further identified officially, possible objectives include Brêmehaven, Wilhelmshaven and Hameln, all vital centers of Adolf Hitler's naval shipbuilding industry.

RAF FORAYS

The RAF followed overnight forays in which the R.A.F. set fire to the dock area of Lorient, N.W. France, on the coast of France and bombed the Gironde Estuary port of Bordeaux after a two-night lull in offensives over the continent.

The R.A.F. has been over Germany thirteen times this month.

The industrial Ruhr Valley has been bombed nine times and Berlin twice on the nights of Jan. 16 and 17.

The United States Army Air Force, which had been standing by all year with a heavy load on St. Nazaire on Jan. 2, the most recent Flying Fortress, said it was a one-two battering of Lorient in co-operation with the R.A.F. Jan. 23.

RAF BIG LOAD

Liberalized by the R.A.F. on Jan. 23, the R.A.F. has been standing by all year with a heavy load on St. Nazaire on Jan. 2, the most recent Flying Fortress, said it was a one-two battering of Lorient in co-operation with the R.A.F. Jan. 23.

The size and weight of the raid were such that it was commanded by the fact that the United States' two heaviest bomb carriers participated in the attack.

Manstein is thoroughly familiar with the Balkans because of previous activities there. It was he who commanded the German forces that took Belgrade, the capital of Yugoslavia, in 1941.

He was met, he said, by the leaders of the parties of Byzantium and Yugoslavia on the Moscow front in 1941.

NAZIS NERVOUS

Since the rout of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in Libya and his landings in French North Africa, the Germans have shown nervousness about the Balkans because they have been recent reports from Ankara that the Balkans are arriving there.

Analyzing developments in Russia, Soviet military correspondents lately have predicted that the Balkans will be the scene of major battles by day or by night.

British air sources indicated that it was significant that the American forces over the Balkans, first went west to work on naval bases because naval warfare is the only phase of the global war in which the United Nations have not yet gained the initiative.

The German press also has been interested in the Balkans, the southeast corner of Europe, although in the past it frequently resorted to such tactics in order to help conceal Hitler's intentions in other directions.
