By JOSEPH ALLOP

Washington] 23 U.S. and 6 foreign countries joined in a new building of Congress. The formal opening ceremony was attended by delegations from dozens of nations, including Canada and Mexico. It was a sign of goodwill between nations.

John Davies, a member of the Canadian parliament, said he was pleased with the ceremony. "I am happy to see that the American and Canadian people are working together for the betterment of our countries," he said.

The new building is part of the comprehensive development plan for the nation's capital. It is a symbol of the growing friendship between the two nations.

THE CASE OF MAX IGRANAM

Through the Associated Press, Torg, and Denver Post various views are minor details. The house of the 18th trial of Max Igranam, Cowlitz County Nogai farmer, agreed to a settlement of $21,000 basic facts.

Igranam, father of five children, was dead and killed on July 18 while he was working in a potato field. His body was found by a neighbor. His son, aged 12, was also killed when he was working in the field.

Igranam's neighbors, including his wife, said they were surprised when they heard the news. "We were all shocked," said his wife. "We didn't know what to do."

The case is still under investigation, but the coroner said it was a possible murder-suicide.

TASK FOR WHERRY, TAFT ET AL

During the past three weeks Sen. Warren G. Hearst of California, as chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, has been leading a staff of investigators in a fact-finding mission into the shipping industry.

The committee is looking into the problems of shipping and the effects of the war on the transportation of goods.

On the road he visits ports and interacts with officials, he has been able to gather information about the shipping industry and the effect of the war on it.

The committee plans to hold hearings on the findings of their investigation, and to make recommendations to the Congress for action.

MAN-BITES-DOG DEPT.

IT was a new version of the old man and the sea. And it was the story of a showdown between a giant squid and a fisherman in the South Pacific. The scene was set in the South Pacific, where a giant squid was sighted near a fishing boat. The fisherman, who was alone on the boat, decided to try his luck against the giant squid.

He armed himself with a harpoon and charged at the squid. The squid was not impressed and continued to swim away. The fisherman, undeterred, continued his attack. Eventually, he was able to land a few blows on the squid, but was unable to bring it down.

The squid continued to swim away, but the fisherman was determined to keep up the fight. He continued to harpoon the squid, and eventually the squid was forced to surrender.

The fisherman was hailed as a hero, and is now known as "The Man Who Bitten the Dog."
