Soviet In New Asiatic Move At Conference

Bidault Asks Paris For Instructions

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
BERLIN — A new Soviet squeeze play on Korea and the Indo-China War developed in the Big Four Berlin conference today.

The nature of the new Russian move was not disclosed. It occurred in the fifth secret meeting of the foreign ministers at the Soviet Embassy this morning.

Bidault, "very perturbed" when the meeting broke up, asked his government for guidance, an official source disclosed.

The Big Four were conferring in secret primarily about Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's resolution for a Big Five pact, including Red China.

Superior Judge Kurt Kaufman sustained the objection of Roosevelt's attorney, Samuel B. Picone.

There was no indication from the secret Big Four session that today's argument would be any more profitable than any others of the deadlocked Berlin conference.

Several GOP members reported a consensus along these lines after a series of private strategy meetings this week by the 15-man GOP majority on the 25-man tax-writing committee.

Eisenhower Sends Congress Message

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower sent Congress today for authority to share limited information on battlefield use of atomic weapons with friendly nations.

In a special message, the President also asked for the right to share peacetime atomic power production information with all atomic weapons.

Eisenhower said these steps would have the effect of "strengthening the defense and the economy of the United States and of the free world."

Bricker May Back George's Amendment

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker R-Ohio said today if the Senate rejects his version of a proposed constitutional amendment to curb treaty powers, he will back a substitute offered by Sen. George D-Ida.

"If we can get any proposal through the Senate I think the use will strengthen it because all the members there are up for election this year and they are responsive to public sentiment," he said in an interview.

Bricker's avowed willingness to take what he can get—in this case possibly the milder amendment suggested by Mr. George—apparently makes the most serious threat to administration leaders seeking passage of a treaty power proposal.

President Eisenhower has said he is opposed to any change in the Constitution which would limit authority to deal with other nations or upset the traditional balance of power among the government's three branches.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP leader, has said both Bricker and George proposals fall within those objections in their present form.

Bricker has proposed to revise his original treaty measure to provide in its chief section that "treaty or other international agreement can become effective as in."

"Our own security will increase," he said, "as our allies gain information concerning the use of atomic weapons."

Some of our allies, in fact, are now producing fissionable materials or weapons, supporting effective atomic energy research and developing peace time uses for atomic power.
