Homecoming Wrecked

County Flu Cases Rising In Numbers

BY ELIZABETH PRINCE
Charlotte News Staff Writer
The vanguard of what may be a flu epidemic has hit Mecklenburg County.

Miss Ann Barrentine, supervisor of nurses for the city-county health department, said this morning the number dropped to 85, however.

And at Davidson, homecoming dances Friday and Saturday nights have been cancelled because of the threatened outbreak of disease.

No serious illness has been reported, either from the flu or complications of the flu.

Memorial hospital officials reported the hospital has not been "materially affected by flu or complications. Possibly there are one or two patients in the hospital whose condition is an outgrowth of the flu. But that is no more than normal for this time of year.

Presbyterian Hospital administrator J. P. Richardson said, "We are trying to exercise precautions." But he said flu or flu complications have not affected hospital admissions.

A few student nurses, he said, have become ill, and the students have been requested not to attend indoor county gatherings this weekend.

Davidson's acting president, Dean C. J. Pieteron, said this morning, "The incidence of flu on our campus has risen considerably. It went up very fast yesterday.

Lack Of Middle East Policy Comes Home To Haunt U.S.

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(Second in a Series)
WASHINGTON (AP) — For years the Middle East has been torn by conflict. The United States never has succeeded in devising a policy for dealing decisively with it.

As a result the United States today faces greater dangers and deeper involvements in the power politics of that region that at any time in its history. It also faces the possibility of serious defeats there by Russia unless means are found to block the spread of Soviet influence.

The United States has had two major objectives: to make peace between Israel and the Arab states and to protect the region against Soviet inroads. Many of the best informed diplomats and officials consider the Israeli-Arab conflict to be the main source of trouble. With a permanent peace arrangement between Israel and its Arab neighbors, all other troubles would be manageable.

OTHER WORRIES

He revised his prepared text shortly before he spoke to assert solemnly that he also had other problems on his mind, and that he plans to discuss them in the weeks ahead.

He put it this way against the background of Russia's progress in the satellite and the long-range ballistic missile fields.

"They include the continuing endeavor of our people in the fields of scientific achievement, and the methods for attaining even greater achievements, our responsibilities and our opportunities abroad, the strength of our domestic economy, the character and power of our defense programs, and the rights of our people to a confidence in these strengths."

"I have unshakable faith in the capacity of informed, free citizens to solve every problem involved," he said.

FACTS NEEDED

Departing from his prepared text, the President said further to a round of applause at that point, "If I may be able, in these talks, to set out in proper perspective the truth and the facts of these matters, no time consumed will be too much, no personal inconvenience too great."

The President provided no detail regarding his plans. But aides said he will make up to as many as half a dozen speeches, some of them outside of Washington. The first, mostly devoted with the nation's science programs, is expected soon.

The talks probably will continue into the early weeks of next year. The administration has been sharply criticized by some members of Congress who feel the satellite and missile programs have not been pushed vigorously enough.

Macmillan Seeks Scientific Co-Operation From President

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan came here today to appeal to President Eisenhower for restoration of the American-British partnership in scientific research. He said his single purpose is to "improve friendship and extend cooperation" between the two countries.

Macmillan's plane landed at 9:21 a. m. after an overnight flight from London. He was met by Secretary of State Dulles who said that while the Communist world is held together by force the free world is united by understanding.

Dulles declared the three-day talks, opening at the White House.

'Freezers,' Bakers Collusion Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) said today the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee has received "perfectly plain evidence of collusion" between the Morton Frozen Foods Co. and the Bakery Workers Union.

He made the statement in questioning James G. Cross, president of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union, who denied any personal participation in the organization of workers at the Morton Co. plant in Webster City, Iowa.

Cross denied that he had any conversations with Nathan Shefferman of Chicago, whose Labor Relations Associates aided in the organization. Shefferman is a friend of Dave Beck, retiring president of the Teamsters Union.

Representatives of the Shefferman organization had sparked a drive that defeated organization efforts at the frozen foods plant by the United Packaging Workers Union. Then, the committee heard yesterday, Shefferman's agents helped to negotiate a contract with the Bakery Workers Union.

Stock Market Rockets Aloft

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market raced upward today under the impetus of a strong demand from all sections of the country.

Gains ranged as high as $5 a share and the ticker tape lagged as much as eight minutes behind floor transactions. Volume for the first two hours was 1,900,000 shares compared with 2,000,000 shares at the same time yesterday.

The upturn followed a decline which has been under way since mid-July and yesterday saw stocks hit a new two-and-a-half-year low in the most active session since Sept. 27, 1935.

President Eisenhower's statement he would make a series of talks on his "beliefs and determinations" on the national emergency and other matters was credited by many brokers with sparking the price rebound.

DULLES GREETED

"We must never take that understanding for granted," Dulles said in his greeting.

Dulles declared the three-day talks, opening at the White House.

Macmillan recalled he met with Eisenhower at Bermuda in March but said that "a good deal has happened" since then and another meeting was indicated. He did not mention it, but the two developments which clearly lay behind the decision to meet this time were Russia's firing of intercontinental missiles, and the launching of the Sputnik satellite early this month.

Macmillan talked briefly and informally with Eisenhower by telephone shortly after the prime minister's arrival. They were scheduled for their first face-to-face meeting later in the day (6 p. m. EDT) at the White House.

MACMILLAN WELCOMED

White House Press Secretary James Hagerty said Eisenhower had made the telephone call to Macmillan. He added that they talked for five or six minutes and that Eisenhower welcomed Macmillan to this country.

"It is perfectly apparent from the evidence," McClellan said today, "that the management knew and I think arranged" for the Shefferman organization to contact the Packers drive then back the Bakery Union. Shefferman specializes in aiding firms having labor troubles.

Officials Of Schools Gather To Moan, Discuss And Smile

Problems by no means are uniform. In many instances a superintendent has solved his problem and in the four days here he'll swap ideas with a superintendent who might provide the answer for one of his questions.

The early-arriving superintendents today toured three Negro schools — Double Oaks Elementary, Lincoln Heights Elementary and West Charlotte Senior High, plus three white schools — Herbert Spangui Junior High, Canterbury Elementary and Shannock Road Elementary.

They'll open their private session tomorrow. The only session open to the public comes tomorrow.
