

Editions Missed

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Constitution suspended all its morning editions today and the companion Atlanta Journal missed its first edition schedule when pressmen refused to cross picket lines set up by the independent International Mailers Union.

5 Bodies Found

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—The bodies of five men believed to be members of the illegal Irish Republican Army were found today in the wreckage of a lonely cottage blown up in a violent explosion.

Visit To Turkey

ROME (AP)—Italian President Giovanni Gronchi and Foreign Minister Giuseppe Pella left by plane today for four-day state visit to Turkey. It was their second official visit to the Middle East within two months.

Gunman Surrenders

LONDON (AP)—A gunman, apparently crazed, held a 20-year-old stage and radio singer prisoner in a hotel room for two hours early today. The man fired five shots from a pistol without hitting anything but one of his own feet. He finally surrendered to police.

Shooting Heard

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police reported that shooting broke out last night around an East German government building in East Berlin. West Berlin border guards counted 26 shots around midnight and two more an hour later.

Dikes Break

ROVIGO, Italy (AP)—The rain-swollen Po, north Italy's mightiest river, burst its dikes today, flooding thousands of acres of farmland and driving hundreds from their homes.

SUPPORT PROTESTED
KARACHI (AP)—Some 500 angry demonstrators besieged the Soviet Embassy last night, protesting Russian support of India's claim to Kashmir. A strong police guard outside the Embassy prevented violence.

Today's Weather

Sunny and cool today. Fair and not quite so cold this afternoon. Fair and cold with freezing temperatures again tonight. Tuesday partly cloudy and somewhat warmer.

- Low tomorrow morning 52
- Low tomorrow morning 52
- High today 53
- High yesterday 53
- High tomorrow 53
- Sunrise today 6:54 a.m.
- Sunset today 5:20 p.m.

Wildcats Pull Upset On Wofford

Read How on Page 7B

Business	7A-11A
Classified	9-13B
Comics	6A
Crossword Puzzle	12B
Earl Wilson	10A
Editorials	2B
Everyday Counselor	10A
Obituaries	11A
Radio-TV	2B
Sports	4-6B
Special	4-6B
Theaters	12A
To Your Good Health	9A
Women	4-6B
Worry Clinic	12B

Muffled Mrs. W. B. Hall Even Wears Two Pairs Of Glasses

Hope Of Finding Plane Dying Out

HONOLULU (AP)—Hope of rescuing any of the 44 persons missing since Friday night on a vanished Pan American Stratocruiser in the Pacific virtually flickered out today.

Three flares sighted last night were probably "shooting stars or from other search aircraft," a Coast Guard spokesman said. "They were flight flares and that's always kind of doubtful" as a distress signal.

Investigation of the flares continued after daybreak as part of a gigantic search operation covering 172,440 square miles of the ocean.

Mrs. Jean Nally And Handwriting On The Wall

Flares Believed From Other Search Parties

NO TRACE FOUND
But no trace of the missing plane, "Remorse of the skies," had been found at daylight today, more than 2 1/2 days after last word from the craft.

Additional search aircraft flew out from Oahu Island at daylight to join the Pacific's greatest air-sea rescue mission. Planes, helicopters, submarines, the aircraft carrier Philippine Sea and a small fleet of Coast Guard vessels searched the ocean's swells for traces of the plane after a series of possible clues faded out.

The destroyer escort Epperson had been ordered to investigate the flares sighted last night.

TWO FLARES
Long-range radar-equipped Navy Constellation reported seeing two flares at different points— one 340 miles west of the plane's position when it radioed routinely Friday night before disappearing. The second was slightly west of the first.

An Air Force plane sighted a third flare some 340 miles west of the Pan American airliner's position. It was described as white.

Surface craft criss-crossed the searchboard search area, now broken into two rectangular areas under the new pattern. One is 460 miles long and 115 miles wide and the other is 685 miles long and 172 miles wide.

Both straddle the path the lost plane was navigating.

(A former Charlottean, Ed Ellis is identified as one of the passengers. He was manager here for McCormick Co. and lived on Sterling Rd. He and his wife moved to San Francisco in 1952.)

While in Charlotte Mr. Ellis was prominent in civic affairs and headed the Charlotte and North Carolina Junior Chamber of Commerce. He was a member of the Charlotte Lions Club and Myers Park Country Club.

The 33,000-ton aircraft carrier Philippine Sea and two destroyers sped through calm seas yesterday after calling in as many of her crew members as could be reached.

The ship was forced to sail without her full complement of 2,500 when she put out under emergency orders to join the search. Ninety per cent of the ship's officers and 63 per cent of the enlisted men are aboard.

Earlier, hope had flickered and faded with the report of the sighting of a yellow "shooting star" flare and something red at a spot 425 miles west of the airliner's last position.

Hours elapsed before two ships were sighted.

This Is News, Mr. Webster?

"Winter (n). The season of the year, in any region in which the noontday sun shines obliquely; the coldest season of the year; hence cold weather . . ."

low last night—a bitter 28 degrees—and will rest on a freezing 29 tonight.

Even without the mercury, you wouldn't have much trouble telling whether winter had come to Charlotte.

You could see it in the faces of muffled uptown workers and the mittened school kids.

You could see it in the faces of muffled uptown workers and the mittened school kids.

You could see it in the faces of muffled uptown workers and the mittened school kids.

You could see it in the faces of muffled uptown workers and the mittened school kids.

You could see it in the faces of muffled uptown workers and the mittened school kids.

You could see it in the faces of muffled uptown workers and the mittened school kids.

Matter Of Time FBI Obtains Clues In Patrol Killings

By JULIAN SCHEER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

The mystery man who killed two North Carolina state highway patrolmen is still on the loose today—his sixth day of freedom since the Tuesday killings—but a part of the mystery may be near an end.

There is a hint today that time may be running out on the slayer. His identity may be known soon to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Meanwhile, Kentucky State Police officers are still engaged in a search in the Paint Lick-Georgetown area.

Charlotte FBI chief M. P. Chiles said today, "Certain pieces of evidence have been obtained which may enable us to identify the individual who stole this particular automobile and who was involved in the murder of two patrolmen."

The "certain pieces of evidence" may lead to the identity of the killer, but it may take hours, days or weeks for the FBI to come up with a name.

"You can be assured," Mr. Chiles added, "that the FBI in all the sections involved in this case is working hard to complete identification."

Space Traveler Put To Death

WASHINGTON (AP)—Death reportedly has claimed the Russian dog Laika, first earth creature to penetrate outer space.

The report of Laika's death was published today by the Italian Communist newspaper L'Unita, quoting its Moscow correspondent.

It said Laika was "put to sleep by a strong narcotic contained in the last bite of food to avoid its suffering prolonged agony."

The headline said "Laika is Dead," although the story did not use those words. It said, "Laika will never return to earth."

There was no direct word from Moscow on Laika's fate, but the Soviet news agency Tass said last night that "the program of scientific research as planned through the second Sputnik has been fulfilled completely."

Later, Moscow radio reported that Sputnik II had completed its 11th circuit of the earth, but made no mention of Laika.

Sputnik II had completed its 11th circuit of the earth, but made no mention of Laika.

Die Together Admirer Slays 2 Teen-Age Girls

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Police said a man has admitted killing his two teen-age sweethearts because he was afraid his wife would find out about them.

The bodies of Miss Beverly Ann Eldred, 17, and Mrs. Deanna Jean Fouch, 16, both of Dayton, were found by a motorist alongside a country road about five miles south of here yesterday. They had been shot.

Detective L. R. C. Beckett of the sheriff's office said Robert Crites, 31-year-old father of four, admitted in a signed statement that he killed the girls.

The girls' bodies fell out when Crites opened the door. He said he left them there and drove to his mother's home in suburban Kettering. From there he called Kettering authorities and gave up.

Beckett said Crites told of first meeting the girls in a beer and wine carry-out store two months ago.

Crites said he fell in love with Deanna but had promised to marry Beverly. Deanna was separated or about to be separated from her husband, authorities said.

Beckett said Crites told of first meeting the girls in a beer and wine carry-out store two months ago.

—DID HUSBAND KILL HER?— Wife's Death Plunge Probed

GLOBE, Ariz.—Police today continued to check the story told by Wilmer W. Evans, 36, of the death last week of his wife, Frances, 34, in a 200-foot plunge in a car into San Carlos Lake.

Globe County Sheriff Jack Jones said three acquaintances of the dead woman had heard her say she feared her husband was planning her death.

But Jones said Evans offers no satisfactory explanation of how he escaped from the car.

Jones quoted Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harris, a couple living in nearby Claypool, as saying Mrs. Evans feared her husband was trying to kill her.

Mrs. Harris Tweedy, an employee of the hospital, also reported that Mrs. Evans told her she feared her husband, the sheriff said. He said Mrs. Tweedy told him Mrs. Evans plunged 300 feet into a canyon 30 miles northwest of Globe and was hospitalized for six days.

Mrs. Harris met Mrs. Evans in a Globe hospital after a similar, earlier accident in which she plunged 300 feet into a canyon 30 miles northwest of Globe and was hospitalized for six days.

—LOST PLANE, NO WEDDING— Japanese Girl Waits In Vain

By BOB UCHIMA
KYOTO, Japan (AP)—Masako Sasaki sorrowfully missed a date at the railway station today after preparing for it all year.

Last week, the Japanese girl got the happy word from her American fiancé that he was flying back to Japan.

She had planned to stay three hours in Japan, just long enough to marry Masako.

"I don't know what to do," she sobbed over the telephone. "I received a wonderful letter from Bill's mother just today, and now Bill isn't here. I'm so worried."

Deck is one of 44 persons missing on a Pan American airplane that last somewhere in the Pacific.

He will be back in Washington for Mrs. Eisenhower's 61st birthday Thursday. Then he may go to Augusta, Ga., for a long week-end of golf and rest.

BUN FALLS INTO SEA
ATHENS, 25.—Six people were killed and 12 injured when a bus plunged into the sea from a cliff in the island of Euboea yesterday.

He goes to Oklahoma City Wednesday night for the second in a series of "chins up" speeches. He has planned in an effort to bolster the nation's confidence.

He will be back in Washington for Mrs. Eisenhower's 61st birthday Thursday. Then he may go to Augusta, Ga., for a long week-end of golf and rest.