Homolish, Dill, Williamson, Frazier, Davis, Optimi Leaders in City Tourney

Patsy Homolish and Nelle Dill, Maggie Williamson, Vivian Frazier, Louise Davis are the individual leaders, and the Optimi the team leader after the first weekend of the sixth annual Columbia Ladies' Bowling Association tournament at Richland Bowl.

Homolish and Dill are the doubles leaders with 1,130. Mrs. Williamson leads in singles with 606. Frazier is the all-events scratch leader in 1,513 and Davis the all-events handicap leader with 1,694.

Mrs. Williamson rolled the best set during the first weekend. 567. Anida Schencker had the top game, 216. The tournament will conclude this Saturday and Sunday.

The Optimi had 2,716 for first place. Big Bundle Launderama is second with 2,654, followed by Pete's Jacksonettes 2,652, Morrow's Open Air Market 2,648 and Pin Busters 2,632.

Second in doubles are Shirley Harris and Vivian Frazier with 1,100. Margie Mishaw and Margie Padgett are third with 1,093, followed by Katie McDonald and Lathan Luna with 1,056, and Connie Stowers and Chris Campanella 1,050.

Following Mrs. Williamson in singles is Bernice Chapman and Mickey Meetze with 577. Hey Mickey, how come you didn't shoot that in doubles and help out Mama? Campanella is fourth with 574 and Davis fifth with 572.

In addition to leading all-events handicap, Davis is second in scratch with 1,505, followed by Sadie Gordon 1,457, Ginny McCraw 1,453 and Mrs. Williamson 1,449. While Frazier leads scratch, she is second in handicap with 1,693. Lou Sodegren has 1,684, Campanella 1,647 and Chapman 1,611.

BOB SEARCY, Virginia Burr and Bill Dodd were winners Sunday on the local TV show, Dodd getting his third straight victory in men's scratch.

Steve Becker, with a seven-pin handicap, had the lead against Searcy, a Fort Jackson soldier, until the winner unloaded a four-bagger at the end to take the marbles. 202 to 198. Searcy converted the 6-7 during the match.

The ladies' handicap winner and Evelyn

Averitte, who was defending, played give away until Evie was open three straight frames and the new champ came up with a strike-spare-strike. It was 158 to 141.

Dodd finished with a four-bagger to whip Dick Barton, another soldier, 200 to 169. Barton had trouble with splits, while Dodd had only a single miss. Barton had rolled 684 in the eliminations, the best score yet.

WE GUESS a bunch of you saw Ray Bluth, the St. Louis professional, collect $20,000 last weekend on "Make That Spare" TV show. Bluth, who won a $1,000 beforehand for taking the match, shot at the 6-7-10 for the 20 G's. It was perfect, no wobbling, no nothing. The six just flipped across the lane and took out the seven. The ball hit the 6-10 spot perfectly.

We aren't bragging, but we've made that thing several times and never won $20,000. We've had handshakes from teammates, but not one of them put a five-spot or something in the palm.

WE READ where Paul Buck, manager of the Charlotte Coliseum complained that South Carolina's performance against N. C. State last Friday in the North-South doubleheader didn't do anything to help the turnstiles.

Come now, Mr. Buck, are you worried about the Coliseum making money? We understand the folks in Charlotte have decided not to bid for the 1967 American Bowling Congress tournament because they can't get the Coliseum to hold the event. It seems that the management, or higher ups, didn't want to tie up the place that long.

Well, if they are worried about making money, the ABC wouldn't hurt. Let's see, 75 days for the tournament would put about $225,000 into the Coliseum bank account. That would include rental, percentage on admission tickets and concessions. We'd like to have that much in the bank.

This year's ABC, beginning Saturday in Oakland, had 3,791 teams entered, Mr. Buck, with total prize money of $330,262. That doesn't include the ABC Masters, which is worth nearly $15,000 itself.

We're glad Columbia officials are behind the Columbia Bowling Association's bid to get the Southern Bowling Congress tournament here in 1966. We talked to Mayor Lester Bates over the weekend, and he tells us he is going to Memphis to help sell the Southern's directors on Columbia.

The mayor figures an additional $250,000 to Columbia's economy during a five-weekend period is well worth a trip to Memphis. Thank you, Mr. Bates.

MEN, REMEMBER the deadline for entering the annual city tournament is midnight, Wednesday. Send your entries to DeWitt Thigpen. The CBA hopes for 128 teams. If the goal is reached and all compete in doubles, that would mean 250 pairs and 500 singles. Quite a tournament, huh?

JIMMY LEVENTIS grabbed us Monday and showed us a news release that states that Sylvia Wene and Dick Weber did indeed bowl a match while traveling by air from New York to Dallas on a big jet.

Gee, we apologize for making fun of you Jimmy, but we didn't think there was much truth in it. We still think you ought to try it instead of throwing your usual game on the ground.

Incidentally, Jimmy's son, Leigh, finished 16th in the nation in the recent 17th annual ABJC Christmas tournament. Leigh, bowling in the Bantam scratch division, had 378 for two games. Jimmy, when was the last time you had 378 for two games?

CHARLIE BOSWELL had one going in the Intra-City at Star Lanes Sunday, collecting nine in a row before he missed the headpin in the tenth frame. Char-lie! Shame on you. Boswell finished with 274 and had a 627 set. The Turtles lead with 42 points to 41½ for Orvin Court.

Battle Dreher in Headliner

Can Columbia's Caps Snap Hex?

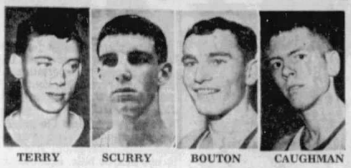
By RAY BENSON
Record Sports Writer

Columbia High tries again tonight to break a 16-year hex when the Capitals entertain Dreher in the feature attraction of the area basketball card.

The Caps have had two chances already this season. They lost to Dreher, 42-41, in the city tournament, and 50-47 in mid-January. Following that loss, Columbia Coach Bill Loving said: "We'll get 'em at our place." Will he tonight?

In other games, University, area co-leader with Dreher, plays at Lexington, Flora is at Brookland-Cayce and Lower Richland meets Bishopville in the Conference 6-A tournament at Bishopville. Olympia and Cardinal Newman were scheduled to play, but cancelled out because they will meet Friday, and again in the Conference 4-B tournament. Three games in eight days was just too much for both.

Dreher has a 15-4 mark, Columbia is 14-4. Marvin Caughman paces the Blue Devils with an 18.3 mark. He will get help from George Hart, Jimmy



TERRY SCURRY BOUTON CAUGHMAN

Padgett and Whit Moore. Hart returned to action only recently after missing four games due to foot trouble.

Rusty (Radar) Bouton is Columbia's top gun. The 5-0 senior, who leaps like a kangaroo, has a 20.1 average. Team captain and guard Bill Eisenman is also in double figures. Marion White, Jimmy Engram and Alan Wall can all score.

If the Capitals are hot, it will be a whale of a game. Loving's boys can't compete with Dreher on the boards, so they must have their shooting eyes in focus.

The last time University played Lexington, the Bantams were dumped, 40-38. They are anxious to reverse that decision tonight. It should be a corker because the Wildcats are having one of their best seasons in basketball. The Wildcats have broken even with the area clubs this year.

Tommy Terry, with a 16.2 average, leads the Bantams. Jamie Munro and Jan Foster are also in double figures, both around 12 points per game. Jimmy Dorsey, Pete Reynolds, Doug Salisbury and Don Villella pace Lexington.

Flora smashed the Bearcats, 65-45, the first time the two met. This time, Brookland-Cayce is the home club. The Bearcats have a 13-5 mark, while Flora is 9-9.

Larry Womack is the top B-C and area scorer with a 23.3 mark. Jerry Scurry has a 14-point average and Frankie Lemond a 12.8 mark for the Falcons. I. D. Hook, Billy Cash, Marion Smith and Leonard Chapman team with Womack on B-C's starting unit. Coach Al Hough has no set lineup, but usually starts Scurry, Lemond and Don Kinsey for sure.

Lower Richland is at the end of the line. The Hornets either win this week, or hang up the uniforms until next season. Whatever happens, it's a good guess the boys will be looking for better things in 1964-65. Right now, the club record stands at 2-18.

Paul Abbott and Mike Sowell hope to produce enough points to make the stay in Bishopville interesting.

Providence Will Compete in NCAA Instead of NIT

By The Associated Press

And just why did Providence, the National Invitation Tournament defending champion, turn down a bid by the NIT and accept one from the National Collegiate Athletic Association?

Well, athletic director, the Rev. A. B. Begley candidly pointed out, "It's the first time we had a chance to accept." Which means it's the first time the NCAA had ever picked Providence to fill one of the 10 at-large spots in its national tournament.

Reason Was Simple

"We accepted the NCAA invitation," Begley said, "because we belong to the NCAA and it's our association championship."

The Friars, who had some early season uneasiness but now appear to have found the formula, were one of nine teams picked by the NCAA. Three more accepted bids to the NIT Monday as the two groups began their selections.

In addition to Providence, the NCAA selected defending champion Chicago Loyola, Villanova, Creighton, Texas Western, Louisville, Oregon State, Utah State and Seattle.

One more NCAA at-large team remains to be picked for the long string of eliminations that culminate in the national tournament at Kansas City March 20-21. The other 15 spots go to conference champions.

The NIT, which will be played in New York's Madison Square Garden march 12-12, picked DePaul, 16-2; Pitt, 14-6; and New York University, 11-5. Nine others will be selected later.

Providence, 17-3 after Monday night's 95-75 triumph over Scranton, and Villanova, ranked fifth nationally at 19-2, are in the NCAA Eastern regional along with Temple, Middle Atlantic champion, and the champions of the Yankee, Southern, Ivy and Atlantic Coast conferences.

Loyola in Mideast

Loyola, 15-5, and Louisville, 14-6, are in the Mideast with the conference champs from the Mid America, Ohio Valley, Southeastern and Big Ten.

Probably the top attraction was Kentucky's 104-73 home triumph over Vanderbilt. Cotton Nash played one of the finest games of his career in sparking the victory that put the Wildcats in sole possession of first place with a 9-2 Southeastern record. Kentucky, ranked third in the nation, is 19-2 over-all.

Nash Gets 32

Nash scored 32 points, stole the ball a dozen times, played a fine defensive game and controlled the offensive rebounds.

Ohio State's Gary Bradds scored 30 points, the first time in seven games he had been under 40, as the Buckeyes rolled over Iowa 99-82 and improved their Big Ten mark to 8-2.

In other major games, Georgia whipped Mississippi State 73-61, Michigan State nipped Illinois 85-82, Indiana outlasted Wisconsin 82-80 in double overtime, Notre Dame rallied and beat St. John's, N.Y., 89-83, Iowa State edged Colorado 60-58 in overtime, Creighton topped Oklahoma City 94-77, Kansas State took Nebraska 50-48, Missouri defeated Kansas 68-60, West Virginia romped over Syracuse 104-83 and Bradley shaded Oklahoma 80-78.

Furman Entertains VPI; Wofford Plays Pembroke

Coach Red Myers of Erskine College was a little on the bright side this morning, and coaches Art Musselman of Presbyterian and Nield Gordon of Newberry a little dreary after their Monday night basketball engagements.

The Flying Fleet picked up its 18th victory of the season by defeating the Newberry Indians 71-70, overtime. The Blue Hose, after a strong stand, succumbed to Cumberland College, 75-68. They are now 7-12 for the season and have one more game left.

Tonight's card will feature VPI at Furman and Wofford at Pembroke.

Senior guard Don Helms scored all five of Erskine's points in an overtime period to give the Flying Fleet the win.

Newberry forward Phil Musgrave hit on a jump shot with five seconds remaining to send the game into overtime with the score 66-66.

Neither team could take a controlling lead the entire night. Hogan Hancock was high for Erskine with 26 points. David Hawk paced the Indians with 22 markers.

At Clinton, little all-American candidate Wilford Jackson jumped ahead of Presbyterian in the opening minutes and went on to win.

Jackson, a 6-3 guard, opened Cumberland's scoring with a burst of 16 points in the first nine minutes of the game, added seven more during the first half and finished with 35 for the night to lead all scorers.

Leading at halftime, 44-34, the Indians came out the second half and faced a Presbyterian man-for-man defense, but they ran over the smaller Hose.

Any Karlsons scored 30 points to lead the Presbyterian cause, while Bill Tallant added 11. Cumberland is now 11-16.

Royals Have Best Machine

NEW YORK (AP) — The top offensive machine in the National Basketball Association belongs to Cincinnati's streaking Royals.

The Ohioans, unbeaten in the last 12 games, including Monday night's 129-113 victory over San Francisco, lead the NBA in four departments, thanks to heavy individual contributions by amazing Oscar Robertson.

League statistics through last Sunday's games show Cincinnati ahead in total points, points per game, field goal percentage and assists. The Royals are second in rebounding and third in free throw percentage.

Robertson is the individual leader in foul shooting, with an .854 mark, in assists, with 683, and is second to San Francisco's Wilt Chamberlain in the point race. The Big O is averaging 30.9 points per game; Wilt is hitting at a 36-point clip.

Robertson stepped up his playmaking pace last Friday with a season-high 21 assists against New York.

McGuire Pays Call On USC Trustee

By JACK BASS
Record Staff Writer

Former University of North Carolina basketball coach Frank McGuire recently made an overnight visit to Barnwell, spending the night as guest of Sol Blatt Jr., chairman of the athletic committee of the University of South Carolina board of trustees, Blatt confirmed this morning.

"It was more of a social call than anything else," Blatt noted, but he said basketball was discussed.

McGuire was accompanied on the visit by USC Athletic Director Marvin Bass.

The university has been without a head coach since the departure of Coach Chuck Noe at the end of the fall term. Dwane Morrison, Noe's assistant, has been serving as acting head coach.

Bass said this morning that he and the university's administration have been impressed with the ability Morrison has shown, but declined further comment.

A coach is expected to be named next month after the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament.

McGuire, who coached the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association after leading UNC to the national championship during his tenure there, has been out of coaching the last two seasons after the Warriors relocated in San Francisco.

Blatt said the university talked with McGuire concerning the coaching job before Noe was hired and called McGuire "a most attractive fellow—he would be a tremendous asset anywhere and an asset to any athletic program."

It was Blatt's impression that McGuire enjoys working with young men and would eventually get back into coaching.

At present, McGuire is employed by a film company and resides in Greenwood Lake, N. Y.

He is known to have expressed a desire to return to the south.
