Clinton Defense Rests Case After Calling Two Witnesses

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The defense today rested its case in the Clinton segregation trial without calling further witnesses.
 Chief Defense Counsel Robert L. Dobbs, Memphis, told U. S. Dist. Judge Robert L. Taylor after two witnesses testified briefly this morning that "in order to avoid consuming any more time, the defense for the 10 defendants rest their case."
 Northern segregationist John Kasper's lawyer J. Benjamin Simmons said he concurred. He represents only Kasper.
 U. S. Dist. Atty. John C. Crawford Jr. rose and said, "that's all for the government, too."
 The only defense witnesses today were Ted White, a Clinton fireman, and Guy M. Jones, fireman in a knitting mill at Clinton. White's testimony was that the restraining order, prohibiting interference with integration at Clinton High School, was not fully read by U. S. Marshal Frank Quarles.
 Jones testified that everything was quiet around the high school prior to Dec. 4. That was the day when the Rev. Paul Turner escorted six Negro students to school and was beaten immediately afterward.
 Crawford, however, brought out the fact that Jones began work every day at 7 a. m. Jones said he was on vacation Dec. 4, a Tuesday.
 "But you weren't around the school during the week before, were you?" Crawford asked.
 The witness agreed.
 "So you don't actually know yourself what the situation was around the high school?"
 Government witnesses have described mounting tension in the week before Dec. 4. They said four defendants regularly stationed themselves near the school.
 Jones said, however, that he "made it a point" to know what was going on at the school.
MOUNTING TENSION
 At the start of today's sessions, it seemed that the defense would continue trying to demolish two vital points, violence and conspiracy, in the government's case.
 Before today's court session opened the defense attorneys were closed for more than an hour, arguing over their next move in the history-making civil rights lawsuit.
 When they emerged, they said they were still not wholly in agreement.
 Some said they would rather go on and others favor resting the case at this point.

New York Crusade To Run To Aug. 10

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Graham's New York crusade will be extended to Aug. 10, the organizers announced today.
 A unanimous decision on extension was reached this morning when Graham conferred with his team and executive committee at a special breakfast meeting here.
 The evangelistic crusade at Madison Square Garden which began May 15, was originally scheduled to end June 30. It was extended to tomorrow night, but because of the large crowds attending the question of a further stay was again raised.
 The extension time likely would be another week or two.
 Reverend H. H. Hays, chairman of the executive committee, made the announcement of the special meeting to 19,000 persons in the Garden last night. Total attendance to date is 1,295,100.
 The normal capacity of the garden is 18,500. Despite the fact that 19,200 were accommodated, another 2,000 persons were turned away.
 The slim evangelist from North Carolina preached before going inside for the regular service.
 Among the guest ministers on the platform with Graham was the Rev. Martin Luther King, leader of the Negro bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala. The Negro minister read the opening prayer.
 He was praised by Graham as a man who had contributed to a "great social revolution" in the United States.
 At the close of last night's services, 726 people came forward to go first to FIELDS — Servant Watch Repairs. (Adv.)

Used Union Cash, Officer Confesses

Senators Told Homes Purchased

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lloyd Klenert, secretary-treasurer of the United Textile Workers Union (UTW), acknowledged today that he and Union President Anthony Valente used $57,000 of union funds in purchasing Washington homes.

He told the Senate Rackets Committee the money was entered on the union books as an "organizational expense" but insisted there was nothing wrong with this.

It was, he said, just a "hollidically astute" means of concealing from a rival faction in the union "what could be termed a slush fund."

Klenert told the committee the union is not "out" any money from the deal. He was not immediately asked whether or how he and Valente had repaid the $57,000.

AUTHORIZED

He said the union's Executive Council had authorized him and Valente to employ some "lay-asside" device to conceal the fact from possibly dissident unionists that UTW had borrowed $85,000 from a bank in anticipation of a costly and "tremendous" organizational campaign.

"The board," he said, "considered it politically astute to conceal the fact that we were creating what could be termed a slush fund."

Before the hearing began, Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Klenert would be asked also about the "alleged use of union funds in other transactions."

Chairman McClellan (D-Ark.) used the figure $40,000 in referring to these other alleged transactions.

After Klenert told his story of the creation of the "slush fund," McClellan asked, "How in the world do you deduce they wanted you to buy private homes with it?"

"A GOOD WAY"

Klenert said they did not make any such deductions, but "we and Valente thought it would be a good way of holding it."

She'll Lose Title

'Miss' USA Turns Up With Husband And 2 Children

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Miss Universe contest stands to lose her title and the right to compete further because she is married, contest officials said today.

Leona Gage finally stopped denying her marriage this morning and said she is the wife of an airman and mother of two.

Leona came here as Miss Maryland, giving a hometown of Glen Burnie, a Baltimore suburb.

Actually, she was married at 14 to Gene Norris Ennis, 29, Air Force staff sergeant stationed at Friendship International Airport. The children are David Nathan, 2, and Gene Jr., 3.

Leona told contest officials she was single and 21. Other sources give her age as 18 and her marriage date as Feb. 3, 1953.

TO LOSE TITLE

Contest officials says she will be stripped of her title and Miss Utah, Charlotte Sheffield, 20, Salt Lake City blonde, will take over as Miss United States. Miss Utah was runner-up in the Miss USA finals last Wednesday night.

Miss Utah, however, will not compete in tonight's Miss Universe finals. Instead, the girl who was 16th in the semifinal judging last night will fill the spot. The name of this girl has not been determined.

Oscar Meinhardt, director of the international beauty pageant, said,

"She swore to us that she is not married and her sponsor insisted she is not."

DENIES RUMORS

The rumors started flying last night, and Miss Maryland fearfully denied them. This morning she denied them again. At last, however, she changed her story and admitted the marriage.

Mrs. Clarence Long of Crisfield, Md., Leona's mother-in-law told newsmen that the girl courted her three weeks ago with the children and said she was going to try for the contest.

Mrs. Long kept the oldest child and the other was turned over to a family on a farm near Baltimore. Mrs. Long said Leona told her contest officials she was married.

After winning her title, Leona told a story of rags to riches path to the contest. She said she and a cousin with whom she lived near Baltimore pooled $45 in savings to buy a dress to enter the Maryland contest. After

Airman Gives Self Up After Long Absence

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP) — B. J. (Dick) Hartin, 20, left his 17-year-old pregnant wife yesterday to return to the Air Force after several months' absence and learn whether they want him to serve out his re-enlistment, or to prosecute him on AWOL charges.

Hartin told the Spartanburg Journal he was turning himself in to city police here because he understood "the Air Police were searching for him. City police save him over to authorities at Donaldson Air Force Base at Greenville, S. C."

He added that he hopes the money he made working outside the Air Force will be enough to take his wife over until he is back on somebody's payroll.

This is the story Hartin told. In January, 1955 he joined the Air Force. Last January, while stationed at Biggs AFB, El Paso, Tex., he decided to take a "short discharge" — before his original enlistment expired — and re-enlist for another four years. He was discharged Jan. 27 for this purpose, and the next day was sworn in again.

After the ceremony Hartin went to the base finance office to get his pay. There he was told his physical condition made him ineligible for re-enlistment.

He deposited money back to the officer who swore him in and was told to "just forget" he ever existed.

Hoffa's Case Goes To Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — The James R. Hoffa conspiracy-bribery case went to the jury today.

U. S. Judge Burnita S. Matthews admonished the jury to reach a verdict "without sympathy or prejudice."

Submitting the case then to the jury of seven women and five men she said it should perform its duty "thoroughly and impartially."

Fifty minutes of the judge's instructions were taken up with detailed explanation of the first count of the indictment.

This alleges that Hoffa, Midwest boss of the Teamsters Union with headquarters at Detroit, and Hyman I. Fischbach of Miami, Fla., conspired to induce John C. Chauncey to get a job with the Senate Rackets Committee, then bribed him to feed them its secrets.

The jury will decide only Hoffa's guilt or innocence. Fischbach is on trial with Hoffa a month ago, but last week was granted a mistrial when his lawyer became ill. The government has announced that Fischbach will be tried later.

Judge Matthews told the jury there is a presumption of Hoffa's innocence under the law which the government has the burden of overcoming "beyond a reasonable doubt" before he can be convicted.

The judge further reminded the jury that Hoffa, from the witness stand, denied any wrongdoing and insisted he employed Chauncey as a lawyer — not as a spy — and did not ask him to get a job on the rackets committee staff and job. He did not know that he had such a job.

TALENT HUNT

SPokane, Wash. (AP) — Spokane's "country week" got off in a slow start. Four officers scanned the downtown area the first day to cite "the courteous driver of the day." They reported they couldn't find anyone to qualify.

PHONE MARATHON OVER — Long Talker Short Of Change

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — He talked, through an intercom, with a teacher in Paris and recited poetry to her. He called Princess Grace in Monte Carlo, Monaco, but the gist of the conversation — or whether he actually talked with the princess, or a friend — nobody caught.

The telephone company sent out a serviceman to unload the phone cash box about halfway through the 24-hour stint. The man kept sending out for more change. Soon all the business houses in the area were stripped of all their nickels, dimes, quarters.

He also sent out for sandwiches and continued talking.
