Calm Barber Kept Cutting During Row

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—A barber interrupted a haircut yesterday to stab a friend, returned to his job and then stopped again to shoot to death the man he stabbed, Sheriff Dave Starr reported.

Herman L. Allen, 33, was jailed on an open charge in the slaying of Little Wes Kersey, 24, Stillmore, Ga.

A customer, Harry F. Ryan, told officers that Allen was cutting his hair while engaged in an argument.

Allen suddenly stabbed Kersey in the chest with scissors, then forced him to sit in a chair while he continued to cut Ryan's hair, Starr said.

After a few moments Kersey belted for the door and Allen pulled a pistol and fired twice, hitting him the second time in the back, the sheriff said.

Ryan was unharmed.

Maj. Pegram Examines Grenade

Boy Acts Wisely

'Highly Explosive' Grenade Found

An 11-year-old boy who found a "highly explosive" grenade on Belvedere Ave. yesterday may have prevented a serious explosion.

The boy, Dicky Megorden, promptly had his mother take the lethel weapon to the Army Reserve Center on Central Ave. There Maj. J. C. Pegram confirmed that the grenade was live and "highly explosive." He lethal weapon to the Army Re- said, "the young boys acted very wisely in not tinkering with the grenade."

Dicky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Megorden, of 2117 Chatham Ave., found the grenade under a bush when he was looking for his cat.

"SCARED TO DEATH"

The lad was "scared to death" when he found out the object was not a "child's playtoy," he said.

Les Hutchins, a friend of Dicky's, came by shortly after he found the grenade. He told Dicky it was a real grenade. The boys took it to Dicky's mother who "didn't know what it was" but acted on the youths' advice.

Dicky, a fifth grader at Midwood School, said he "held the cap on with all my might. . . I held it way out the window while Mom was driving to the Center."

Maj. Pegram said he had no idea why the grenade was under the bush. "Our examination leads us to believe that the grenade must have been lying under the bush for several months," he said. He said the Center doesn't handle that type of grenade.

Jose's 'Signature' All Along Route

DENVER (AP)—It was only his second day on the job, but Jose Salazar really left his mark on things.

Salazar was helping clear a site for a new high school. He loaded a truck with tree trunks and branches for delivery to the city dump.

En route, police said, his shifting load scratched and dented almost every car parked on the right hand side of the street.

Officer John Woodward said more than 50 complaints had been made by irate motorists.

The only comment Salazar could offer, after seeing the damage: "Frankly, I'm sick."

Bank Bandits Grab $15,000

ELK CREEK, Va. (AP) —Two young, armed bandits robbed the Elk Creek bank of $15,000 today.

Cashier Fletcher Wingate said the two men entered the bank and asked for $10 worth of nickels. As he turned to get the money, he said, he was ordered to put his hands on the counter and was then tied up with two neckties.

Wingate said the men took $15,000, ran out and fled in a car.

Police broadcast an alarm for the men who were believed to have left this mountainous southwest Virginia community and headed for Galax.

Police checked on reports the pair had stopped at a store at Dalhart, six miles from Galax, and requested directions to the Blue Ridge Parkway.

The men were described as wearing coveralls. One was slim and the other heavyyset and wearing what appeared to be a false beard. Witnesses said the pair left in a 1955 or 1956, black or brown Oldsmobile car which had no hubcaps on one side.

Police blocked roads in Grayson and Carroll counties and routes leading into North Carolina. The search was being concentrated in the Haywood section toward the North Carolina-Virginia border.

A State Police spotter plane joined in the search.

Motion To Disqualify Davies Fails

LITTLE ROCK, Ark (AP) — Federal District Judge Ronald N. Davies overruled a motion to disqualify himself today in the hearing for a preliminary injunction against Gov. Orval E. Faubus and testimony began in the history-making lawsuit.

Faubus, who had asked the judge to step down because of alleged "bias and prejudice," was not in the court room as the proceeding began.

Davies said the Faubus motion was "not legally sufficient" and not timely.

These were the two principal arguments brought against the motion by government attorneys. Donald C. MacGuineas, arguing against Faubus' motion, spoke for 18 minutes. Kay Matthews, one of the three attorneys representing the governor, spoke for seven minutes in response. Matthews challenged the government's right to file a countermotion to strike down the claim that Davies was biased and prejudiced.

This cleared the way for the presentation of evidence.

CLINGER ABSENT

Arkansas Adjutant Gen. Sherman T. Clinger also was absent from the courtroom.

It was Clinger who at Faubus' orders deployed National Guardsmen around the high school to prevent Negroes from entering—a move the governor said was taken to prevent violence.

Clinger is a codefendant with Faubus in the injunction suit.

The governor was under summons to appear in the case.

It was the second consecutive day on which he declined to come into court.

Yesterday, he refused a federal court subpoena for another civil rights lawsuit.

Faubus was not strictly required under a summons to appear in person today. The U. S. District Court clerk said he could be represented by attorneys.

At 9:35 a. m. it was reported Faubus was still in bed at the governor's mansion. The hearing opened at 10:04.

Davies opened the hearing by asking for arguments on the government's motion to set aside Faubus' affidavit of prejudice.

A Little Rock Hallway To Court Is Crowded As People Wait To See Gov. Orval Faubus

New Phone Threat Rises

The possibility existed today that Western Electric Co. workers, who ended a four-day strike this morning, would stage a new walkout in the next day or so.

Charles Henderson, representative of Local 3290, Communications Workers of America, said, "If Southern Bell suspends any employes who honored our picket lines and did not report for work we shall take position we too have been suspended."

Mr. Henderson said he had been informed some Southern Bell employes had been suspended in Greenville, S. C.

Mr. Henderson said approximately 400 Southern Bell employes honored picket lines and did not report for work during the four-day strike. The strike ended this morning when agreement was reached on disputed issues and pickets were withdrawn.

HENDERSON STATEMENT

Mr. Henderson's statement to The Charlotte News follows:

"In event an employe (of Southen Bell) is suspended this local shall consider we too have been suspended and shall take the position we have been suspended."

He said, "We feel the strike is not over," and added, "the strike was duly authorized," pointing out Bell workers had the right to honor picket lines.

D. C. Williamson, district commercial supervisor for Southern Bell here, said, "No workers have been suspended by us. The whole situation shall be studied. We don't know if anyone will be suspended or not."

He said some employes had been suspended in other cities in Southern Bell's nine-state area but to the best of his knowledge there had been no suspensions in the Carolinas.

He said some workers who reported for work today were dismissed as other workers already had been assigned to their positions for the day. But these workers, he pointed out, will return on their next scheduled period.

Teamsters Halt On Voting Near

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal Dist. Judge J. Dickinson Letts indicated today he would sign an order directing the Teamsters Union to show cause why election of new union officers should not be delayed.

A group of union members in New York is seeking to block elections at the Teamsters convention opening in Miami Sept. 30.

They contend Teamster convention delegates have been designated illegally to rig election of James R. Hoffa as union president.

Judge Letts directed that attorneys for the group prepare a proposed order for his signature.

The judge said the order prepared for his signature should require a hearing here Sept. 27.

Letts said Teamsters officials should be served with notice of the hearing by Sept. 24. Most of them are already in Florida for convention preliminaries.

14 Arrests Made In Liquor Raids

By JULIAN SCHEER and DICK BAYER
Charlotte News Staff Writers

Fast-moving teams of Federal and local officers fanned out over Gaston and Lincoln Counties today and arrested 14 persons for wholesaling non-tax paid liquor.

In companion raids, Gaston County rural police seized eight persons on charges of violating the state liquor laws.

The raids culminated a month of planning and undercover work. Taking part were agents from the U. S. Marshal's office in Charlotte, the U. S. Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Unit office here, and the Mecklenburg ABC Board's law enforcement division.

LINCOLN HIT FIRST

The teams struck first in Lincoln County and then moved on to Gaston. Nine alleged bootleggers were seized on the federal charges in Lincoln and five in Gaston.

Officers said they planned to make at least seven more arrests in Gaston during the day.

The following were arrested on Federal charges in Gaston county:

Ray Carswell of Stanley.
Harold Walker of Stanley.
Paul Brooks, Negro, of Dallas.
Charlie Knight of Spencer Mountain.
Otis Whetstine of Crowders Mountain.

Officers said all had sold at least six gallons of non-tax paid moonshine to undercover agents.

$300 BOND

They will be held under $500 bond for appearance in U. S. district court in Charlotte in October. They waived preliminary hearings before U. S. Commissioner N. W. Craig of Gastonia and Deputy Commissioner Robert Beam of Charlotte.

Nine Federal officers, working in crews of three, started at 5:30 a.m. in Lincoln County. In addition to the eight arrests, the officers seized about 175 gallons of non-tax-paid white liquor.

MECKLENBURG ARRESTS

Federal officers also made four arrests yesterday in the Two Point section of Mecklenburg County, just across the Catawba River from Mount Holly.

Arrested in Mecklenburg were Robert Aiken, Harlan Aiken, Sanford Aiken and Peter Ellington, all of the Two Point section.

Officers seized 24 and a half gallons of white liquor and two

Air Force Fires 70-Foot Missile

MISSILE TEST CENTER, Cape Canaveral, Fla. (AP)—A big, gleaming, cigar-shaped missile, believed to be the Air Force Thor, was blasted into the sky from the missile test center at 9:25 a.m. today.

The missile rose straight up for perhaps 15 to 20 miles, then curved to the eastward and kept climbing on an arc.

Rising with a flaming tail, the missile discharged white smoke at high altitude like a skywriting plane. Then as it turned on a more curving course, it left a streak of gray.

It sounded in the air like a squadron of bombers, it was perhaps half a minute after it left the launching pad before the sound could be heard.

CLEAR SKY

The sky was crystal clear and the missile could be seen for at least two minutes after it left the ground.

If it was the Thor, it was the fourth and only successful launching of this missile to date.

The first two were of doubtful success and the third launching Aug. 30 traveled an estimated 13 to 17 miles before a booster apparently threw it off course.

Preparations for firing the Thor estimated at 65 to 70 feet long, had been going on most of the morning.

Spectators on the beach about three miles away saw what appeared to be fumes from fuel escaping around the base of the missile for about an hour before the firing.

Then the fumes cleared and seconds later the missile took of and out of sight quickly.

Asst. Defense Secretary Donald Quarles was at the base and probably watched the firing. His report to Defense Secretary Wilson may have an effect on the decision as to whether the Air Force Thor, the Army Jupiter, or a combination of both goes into production.

BOTH LONG RANGE

Both the Thor and the Jupiter have ranges of 1,500 miles and are rated as intermediate-range missiles.

There still is speculation that an Atlas intercontinental missile may be fired from here in a day or so.

The Atlas, as far as is known, is the United States' Sunday punch in the rocket line. It was designed to propel a nuclear warhead 5,000 miles in a few minutes.

One Atlas roared aloft from Cape Canaveral last June. It appeared to blow up early in flight. Later it was learned a minor part malfunctioned and the rocket was destroyed for the sake of safety and security.

Grimes Called Briefly Insane

By BRYAN HAISLIP

WASHINGTON, N.C. (AP)—A psychiatrist told a Beaufort Superior Court jury today it was his "professional opinion" that J. D. Grimes Jr. was "temporarily insane" at the time of the shooting of Haywood Paul.

Dr. Harry Brick of Richmond, Va., was called to the stand to bolster Grimes' defense against a second degree murder charge in the slaying of Paul, a tenant farmer.

Grimes has admitted firing four shots into Paul when, he said, he discovered Mrs. Grimes and Paul were making love under a tobacco barn shelter near the Grimes home. He said the sight "completely drove me out of my mind."

Dr. Brick said he based his opinions on consultations with Grimes since the slaying and on a hypothetical question asked him by defense lawyer John C. Rodman outlining circumstances of the slaying as the defense claims they happened.

"In my opinion, Grimes was not in sufficient possession of his mental faculties to know the nature and quality of the act he was doing," said Dr. Brick.

"TWILIGHT STATE"

A person aroused from a sound sleep, as Grimes said he was on the night of the slaying, would be in "sort of a twilight state," the psychiatrist explained. In such a condition, he continued, the "shocking situation" which Grimes said he encountered would "further aggravate his already disturbed condition."

Dr. Brick added, "He was certainly not responsible for what he was doing."

The defense also called a number of character witnesses, including the Rev. Wilfred T. Waterhouse, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, where both Grimes and his wife are members.

Later today, the state was expected to begin calling its witnesses. There were indications that Judge Joseph W. Parker would hold night sessions, if necessary, to get the case to the jury this weekend.

Grimes, 42, attorney and member of a prominent family, has pleaded innocent in the pistol slaying of Haywood Paul, 47, on grounds of temporary insanity.

Grimes related to a jury in Beaufort Superior Court yesterday how he discovered his wife and Paul making love under a tobacco barn shelter near the Grimes home late the night of Aug. 16.

Disclosure of a letter warning of an affair between his wife and Paul was one of the highlights of yesterday's dramatic session. The letter was written by Paul's wife last October to Grimes' father. In it, Mrs. Paul stated that an affair between her husband and Mrs. Grimes had been "going on ever since the early spring."

She said her husband had "broke up four" marriages and warned that if something was not done "someone is going to get hurt and hurt bad."

J. D. Grimes Sr., 79-year - old lawyer, told the court Mrs. Paul had talked with him later and said "she had found out she was mistaken and asked me to forget all about it."

—TWO IN TRAP FOR IKE—

Boys Outdrive Golfing Ike

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — Two teen-age Rhode Island golfers today outdrove a chagrined President Eisenhower by more than 50 yards off the first tee.

"Wowie," the President exclaimed at the start of the match at the Newport Country Club. "It's going to be bad for us."

On the first nine holes Eisenhower and the club pro, Norman Palmer, were matched against 17-year-old Robert Fitta, winner of the Rhode Island Junior Chamber of Commerce tournament this year, and Gary Letiecq and two other finalists in that tournament — Robert Dalcasio, 17, and William McGuinness, 17, had hoped to caddy for the President.

Eisenhower thanked them for the offer, but suggested that instead they play a round with him.

The President arranged to play the second nine holes today with Dalessio and McGuinness. They toured the first nine with James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, and Howard G. Cushing, the Newport Country Club president.

TWO IN TRAP

Eisenhower was first off the tee and he belted his first two drives into a sand trap less than 200 yards off to the west edge of the fairway.

He then tried a third, but it also was short, and off to the right.

"Those are some of the worst shots I've had," the President muttered in disgust.

Palmer whacked one long and far right down the middle, then young Letiecq stepped up. He showed a trace of nervousness but it did not interfere with his drive which traveled about 240 yards down the middle.

The youth gave a big sigh of relief as Fitta stepped up to the tee and also got off a good drive of close to 250 yards.

"Wow! Have fun," Hagerty remarked to the President with a grin as the first foursome started toward the first green.
