

Cease-Fire Urged

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd today called on both Red China and the Chinese Nationalists to end their military activities in Formosa Strait immediately.

More Talks

WARSAW, Poland — United States and Chinese representatives conferred for one hour and 45 minutes today on a Formosa Strait cease-fire and agreed to meet again next Tuesday.

Out By October?

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Rashid Karami, the new Premier of Lebanon, predicted today American troops would quit this country by the end of October.

Blaze Battled

RICHMOND, Va. — Thirteen engine companies today battled stubborn blaze in the heart of Richmond's financial district. The fire was largely being confined to one building.

Grnewald Dies

WASHINGTON — Henry (The Dutchman) Grnewald, pictured as a high-priced fixer by witnesses in the 1953 investigation of federal tax scandals, died today.

Injuries Fatal

DACCA, Pakistan — The deputy speaker of the East Pakistan Provincial Assembly died today of injuries suffered when opposition members assaulted him in the assembly.

French Success

ALGIERS — Official sources claimed today that 13,700 rebels had been killed or made prisoner by French forces from May 15 to Sept. 20. No break-down was given.

Bid Rejected

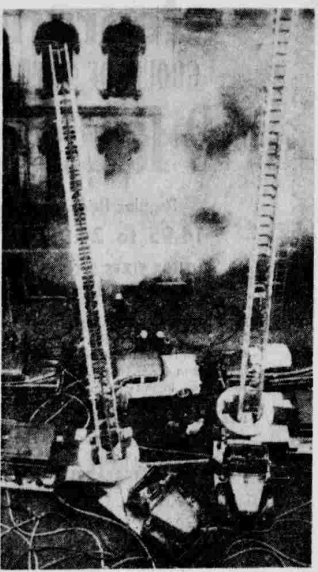

LONDON — British authorities have turned down a bid by convicted atom spy Klaus Fuchs to do scientific work outside prison during the last months of his term. It was reported today.

Man Seizes Girl

JACKSON, Mich. — Police sought a man who seized a 13-year-old girl by force last night and drove off with her. A custody fight between the child's parents was involved.

Evening Prayer

They, way, O Lord, is too high for us fully to understand. But we know Thy love and care for us. Thou are ready to supply our needs. Give us more strength and patience, more faith and trust. In Thee, In Jesus name. Amen.

Richmond Fire

Early arrivals in the financial district of Richmond, Va., were greeted with this scene today. Firemen were pouring water into the Everett Waddey Co. Building where fire, smoke and water caused damage estimated in excess of $200,000.

—THE JUDGE IS CONVINCED—

Court Frees Mind Reader

BERLIN — Six spectators in a courtroom in suburban Berlin raised their hands. Yes, they told the judge, they were willing to have their minds read by the man on trial. They wrote six questions and handed them to the bench. The judge turned to Gerhard Bergard, 39, otherwise known as "Hanssen II, Germany's No. 1 mind reader."

The charge against Bergard was that he had scolded them in private seances by professing to give news of missing relatives.

WHAT'S ON FIRST?

The judge: "What is on the first piece of paper?"

Bergard: "The lady is asking about her sister. She is an inch taller, blonde, considerably younger, and works in a public building."

The questioner: "That's right. My sister works as a medical assistant."

The judge: "What is on the next paper?"

Bergard: "The man has asked about his son. He will come along well in school."

"Correct." The judge: "The next questioner is a city detective. What has he written?" Bergard, hesitating: "He asks about his mother or his grandmother. I have no contact. Either the question is phony or she is dead. The man has suffered long—a concentration camp? Is that correct?"

MORE ANSWERS RIGHT

Three further questions were asked and Bergard got the answers relatively right.

The judge: "The judge that Bergard has deliberately cheated people. The experiments in court, particularly that with the detective, indicate that the accused has a certain validity to his claims as a mind reader. Case dismissed."

Hanssen II, embracing his wife: "I had foreseen that I would be freed."

Governors Quiet About Schools

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Southern governors talked and talked about it, but they are still "off the record" on school integration.

They ended their 24th annual conference yesterday with an adopting a formal stand on the South's most controversial issue.

A governor who asked not to be identified said after a closed-door executive session: "The feeling behind the scenes was that it would be better not to discuss any of the various resolutions on this issue because of the widely varying views of the governors, we felt it would do more harm than good to have an open fight."

A governor who favors integration, Theodore R. McKelvin of Maryland, proposed a resolution for a formal stand that was killed in the Resolutions Committee.

A segregationist governor, Marvin Griffin of Georgia, and a so-called moderate, Frank Clement of Tennessee, were prepared to introduce resolutions.

But the two said they held the proposed back after McKelvin's resolution lost in committee.

'Watch And Wait' Helene Moving Toward Carolinas

MIAMI, Fla. — Hurricane Helene churned slowly northward toward the Carolina coast—some 350 miles distant—today and the Weather Bureau warned shipping to stay out of its path.

The storm's biggest winds were estimated at 80 miles an hour in squalls. Gale winds extended out 200 miles to the northeast and 110 miles to the southwest.

The Miami Weather Bureau said there were indications the forward pace of the big circular storm was slowly decreasing. Hurricanes often tend to increase in intensity when their movement slows over water, and the Weather Bureau bulletin said slightly more intensification and some increase in size should take place today.

If it continues its present course, the storm will hit the mainland at or near the coastal point where South and North Carolina meet. So far, there has been nothing to indicate any deviation from that course. But, at its present forward pace, some nine miles an hour, many hours would elapse before even the fringe winds would approach the coast.

The latest report from the forecast, reported that the factors which could govern Helene's future course are so evenly balanced that it now that "we must simply wait and watch. Any predictions now of its future course would be pure guesswork."

A balloon-borne radio beacon was dropped into the calm eye of the hurricane yesterday shortly after noon. It was timed to destroy itself at 8:30 p.m. Bureau officials said that no transmissions were heard from it.

A second such beacon was to be dropped into the eye today.

The latest reports from ships showed no gale winds within 250 miles of the Carolinas.

However, the Weather Bureau said winds will increase gradually along the Carolina and Georgia coasts today and tonight. It cautioned small craft to remain close to protected places from the Carolinas southward.

The weather bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, reported a new storm, named Lisa, grew stronger and larger.

Low in the morning and in effect for the Leeward Islands for winds up to 50 m.p.h. Residents of the Leeward Islands were warned to take in m.e.d.i.a.t.e. precautions against strong winds, high tides and surf, and heavy rains and flash-floods.

A hurricane watch was in effect.

Perimeter Residents Can't Vote Before '60

Attorney General Expresses Opinion

By DICK YOUNG
News Staff Writer

It will be unconstitutional for residents in the perimeter to vote in any municipal election prior to formal annexation of the territory by the city government in 1960.

This was an official opinion today expressed by Wade Bruton, assistant attorney general in a letter to City Attorney John D. Shaw.

The opinion: "In my opinion any local legislation extending the right to those residing in the outside area to vote in the primary and general election in the city of Charlotte during 1959 would be violative of Section 2 Article VI of the Constitution of North Carolina."

Mr. Bruton hastened to say that any previous opinion by him was informal and inadvertently made and against precedent and established policy of the attorney general's office.

Recently there were published reports in another Charlotte newspaper that legislation by the General Assembly would permit residents of the territory to be annexed by the city on Dec. 31, 1959 to vote in the municipal elections in April and May 1959, several months before the annexation.

Mr. Bruton had said, according to these published reports, that these residents could not only vote but also become candidates for municipal office.

But today in his letter to Mr. Shaw, Mr. Bruton said, "The informal opinion inadvertently expressed was based on an erroneous understanding of the factual situation." He thought the territory was annexed already.

The state constitution in its Article VI says that a person, in order to be qualified to vote, must reside in the state for one year and in a precinct or voting district for 30 days prior to the election.

Therefore these perimeter residents would not be eligible under the law to vote in the city's 1959 elections.

The opinion, which was received by Mr. Shaw, was formally requested by the City Council in a motion suggested by Councilman Herbert H. Baxter last week.

Mack, Lawyer Are Indicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal grand jury here today indicted Richard A. Mack, former member of the Federal Communications Commission, and Miami lawyer Thurman Whiteside on charges of conspiring to defraud the United States.

The indictment, returned after a month-long investigation, alleges that Mack and Whiteside had improper dealings while the FCC was considering a four-way contest for TV Channel 4 in Miami.

Whiteside was backing Public Service Television, Inc., National Airlines subsidiary, which won the channel.

Mack resigned from the commission March 2 after a House investigating committee developed that he had accepted financial favors from Whiteside while the channel 4 case was pending.

Mack said he had done no wrong. He and Whiteside both insisted the financial favors were based entirely on a long friendship.

A 48-year-old Florida Democrat, Mack was named to the FCC by President Eisenhower in the summer of 1955. The Channel 10 case was decided in February 1957.

Under a court order, FCC is currently rehearing the contest to determine whether undue influence intruded into the process.

The FCC vote awarding the channel to Public Service Television was 4-3.

The grand jury indictment consisted of three counts.

Communists Seize Brand New Church

BERLIN (AP) — In Kuyva, a small village in the Soviet zone of Germany, Catholic residents decided to build a tiny church. After three months of work in off-duty hours, building with their own hands and using their own materials, the church was opened four weeks later. Local Communist authorities forbade the church people to use it, on the grounds it was needed for "social purposes."

The story was told today in the official publication of the Roman Catholic bishop of Berlin.

Couple Parts — HOLLYWOOD, Mass. — Actress Gale Robbins and her husband of 14 years, Robert Olsen, have agreed on a trial separation.

Thousands in Crowd Hold Up Bibles At Urging Of Billy Graham

Youth Night Group To Hear Graham On Moral Problem

By JOHN BORCIERT
News Religion Editor

This is Youth Night again at the coliseum, and Dr. Billy Graham plans to preach to young people on "The Moral Problem."

On the first Youth Night of this week, Tuesday, he told what makes the teen-ager tick during the period of adolescence. That night a record attendance of 14,000 persons brought forth a record number of decisions—726—at Charlotte.

Tonight he will hit the problem of sex when he explains the Seventh Commandment to "all the young people under 20."

During his initial services at the coliseum, Dr. Graham has been going through the Ten Commandments as they apply to living a Christian life today.

Last night 12,500 persons—about 100 of them watching closed circuit television in Queen Auditorium—heard Dr. Graham speak on the Tenth Commandment—"Thou shalt not covet."

At the close of the meeting 348 persons came forward as "inquirers" to make decisions for Christ.

Dr. Graham read a telegram he said he had just received from Dick Hills of the Orient Crusade in Queens, N. Y.

"Form a situation critical, Communist guns continue hurl death at 175,000 people on offshore islands. Quorum churches destroyed. Christians meet outside in darkness to quote scripture, pray, worship. Many suffering, some singing in Heaven. Urge Americans to pray.—Dick Hills"

"Suppose thousands of rounds of ammunition were being fired on Charlotte every day. Dr. Graham said, "bombs exploding every hour—night and day—without ceasing. I am sure that we would hope that people in other parts of the world would be aware of our suffering and our need."

GRAHAM PRAYER

"Forgive us," prayed Dr. Graham, "for our neglect in praying for those people that are suffering tonight on those islands way off the coast of China. We pray that Thou wouldst sustain Thine own people. Encourage them. And we pray tonight that they may sense that we have remembered them here in Charlotte every day."

For his message last night, Dr. Graham read from the Gospel of Luke, 12th chapter, verses 1-3 and 15-21.

"Jesus said, 'Beware of covetousness.' And the Tenth Commandment says, 'Thou shalt not covet.' And I believe tonight that the greatest sin in America is the sin of covetousness."

"Americans are considered all over the world as materialistic, worldly, secular, greedy and covetous. We are guilty of that sin, as a nation, as a people and as individuals."

"Americans have the highest standard of living the world has ever known. Never in history, in Rome, in Babylon, in the great nations of the past, has there been such a thing as a young man who is not a member of a church."

"I think he's still alive, but where? That's what I want to know."

"It's been funny around here tonight. You know, a man like Wallace has seven kids and it looks like you wouldn't miss one too much."

"But you think as much of one as you do any of the others. If I had 20 kids I'd still miss Costley."

Thousands in Crowd Hold Up Bibles At Urging Of Billy Graham

Youth Night Group To Hear Graham On Moral Problem

By JOHN BORCIERT
News Religion Editor

This is Youth Night again at the coliseum, and Dr. Billy Graham plans to preach to young people on "The Moral Problem."

On the first Youth Night of this week, Tuesday, he told what makes the teen-ager tick during the period of adolescence. That night a record attendance of 14,000 persons brought forth a record number of decisions—726—at Charlotte.

Tonight he will hit the problem of sex when he explains the Seventh Commandment to "all the young people under 20."

During his initial services at the coliseum, Dr. Graham has been going through the Ten Commandments as they apply to living a Christian life today.

Last night 12,500 persons—about 100 of them watching closed circuit television in Queen Auditorium—heard Dr. Graham speak on the Tenth Commandment—"Thou shalt not covet."

At the close of the meeting 348 persons came forward as "inquirers" to make decisions for Christ.

Dr. Graham read a telegram he said he had just received from Dick Hills of the Orient Crusade in Queens, N. Y.

"Form a situation critical, Communist guns continue hurl death at 175,000 people on offshore islands. Quorum churches destroyed. Christians meet outside in darkness to quote scripture, pray, worship. Many suffering, some singing in Heaven. Urge Americans to pray.—Dick Hills"

"Suppose thousands of rounds of ammunition were being fired on Charlotte every day. Dr. Graham said, "bombs exploding every hour—night and day—without ceasing. I am sure that we would hope that people in other parts of the world would be aware of our suffering and our need."

GRAHAM PRAYER

"Forgive us," prayed Dr. Graham, "for our neglect in praying for those people that are suffering tonight on those islands way off the coast of China. We pray that Thou wouldst sustain Thine own people. Encourage them. And we pray tonight that they may sense that we have remembered them here in Charlotte every day."

For his message last night, Dr. Graham read from the Gospel of Luke, 12th chapter, verses 1-3 and 15-21.

"Jesus said, 'Beware of covetousness.' And the Tenth Commandment says, 'Thou shalt not covet.' And I believe tonight that the greatest sin in America is the sin of covetousness."

"Americans are considered all over the world as materialistic, worldly, secular, greedy and covetous. We are guilty of that sin, as a nation, as a people and as individuals."

"Americans have the highest standard of living the world has ever known. Never in history, in Rome, in Babylon, in the great nations of the past, has there been such a thing as a young man who is not a member of a church."

"I think he's still alive, but where? That's what I want to know."

"It's been funny around here tonight. You know, a man like Wallace has seven kids and it looks like you wouldn't miss one too much."

"But you think as much of one as you do any of the others. If I had 20 kids I'd still miss Costley."

Governors Quiet About Schools

LEXINGTON, Ky. — Southern governors talked and talked about it, but they are still "off the record" on school integration.

They ended their 24th annual conference yesterday with an adopting a formal stand on the South's most controversial issue.

A governor who asked not to be identified said after a closed-door executive session: "The feeling behind the scenes was that it would be better not to discuss any of the various resolutions on this issue because of the widely varying views of the governors, we felt it would do more harm than good to have an open fight."

A governor who favors integration, Theodore R. McKelvin of Maryland, proposed a resolution for a formal stand that was killed in the Resolutions Committee.

A segregationist governor, Marvin Griffin of Georgia, and a so-called moderate, Frank Clement of Tennessee, were prepared to introduce resolutions.

But the two said they held the proposed back after McKelvin's resolution lost in committee.

'Watch And Wait' Helene Moving Toward Carolinas

MIAMI, Fla. — Hurricane Helene churned slowly northward toward the Carolina coast—some 350 miles distant—today and the Weather Bureau warned shipping to stay out of its path.

The storm's biggest winds were estimated at 80 miles an hour in squalls. Gale winds extended out 200 miles to the northeast and 110 miles to the southwest.

The Miami Weather Bureau said there were indications the forward pace of the big circular storm was slowly decreasing. Hurricanes often tend to increase in intensity when their movement slows over water, and the Weather Bureau bulletin said slightly more intensification and some increase in size should take place today.

If it continues its present course, the storm will hit the mainland at or near the coastal point where South and North Carolina meet. So far, there has been nothing to indicate any deviation from that course. But, at its present forward pace, some nine miles an hour, many hours would elapse before even the fringe winds would approach the coast.

The latest report from the forecast, reported that the factors which could govern Helene's future course are so evenly balanced that it now that "we must simply wait and watch. Any predictions now of its future course would be pure guesswork."

A balloon-borne radio beacon was dropped into the calm eye of the hurricane yesterday shortly after noon. It was timed to destroy itself at 8:30 p.m. Bureau officials said that no transmissions were heard from it.

A second such beacon was to be dropped into the eye today.

The latest reports from ships showed no gale winds within 250 miles of the Carolinas.

However, the Weather Bureau said winds will increase gradually along the Carolina and Georgia coasts today and tonight. It cautioned small craft to remain close to protected places from the Carolinas southward.

The weather bureau at San Juan, Puerto Rico, reported a new storm, named Lisa, grew stronger and larger.

Low in the morning and in effect for the Leeward Islands for winds up to 50 m.p.h. Residents of the Leeward Islands were warned to take in m.e.d.i.a.t.e. precautions against strong winds, high tides and surf, and heavy rains and flash-floods.

A hurricane watch was in effect.

—BRIGHTER SIDE OF THE NEWS—

Wonder Where River Went?

(From AP Reports)
The men of Loggerheads, England, are at loggerheads—over their river.

One thing is certain. The River Alyn isn't going where it used to go. Some say the Alyn is pouring into a foot crater which has opened in the river bed. Others say the river is being lost among the workings of an abandoned lead mine.

An official investigation has been launched.

Early Career

Many girls want to be

Close Winner

A harried-looking man rushed into a Baltimore laundry and plunked a package on the counter. An employee opened it and found it contained garbage.

The customer's shirts, in a similar parcel, had been deposited in a trash chute a few blocks away.

The owner won a race with the trash collectors while a laundry worker disposed of the garbage.

SAFE LANDING

NORWOOD, Mass. — An aircraft engineer from Pennsylvania, relying directions by telephone and radio, told a pilot over Norwood last night how to free his jammed landing gear. The plane landed safely and came down safely.

Our Weather

Fair to partly cloudy and a little warmer today and tonight. Friday considerable cloudiness and mild.

Low tomorrow morning 56
High today 87
High yesterday 83
High tomorrow 97
Sunrise today 6:13 a.m.;
Sunset today 6:16 p.m.

More Weather Data on Page 2A

Battle Over JPs Looms In Raleigh

Story On Page 6-A

Business	10A-12B
Classified	8-11B
Comics	10C
Crossword Puzzle	4C
Earl Wilson	8A
Editors	8A
Editorial Comment	4C
Entertainers	12B
Radio-TV	8A
Serial	6-8C
Social Security Game	8A
Sports	6-8C
Theaters	12B
To Your Good Health	12A
Women	2-3B
Worry Clinic	12C