GLASS IN GOVERNMENT
FIGHT

WASHINGTON, July 13 (INS).—An effort for immediate passage of a resolution to repeal the eighteenth amendment was made in the senate today by Senator Glass (D) of Virginia.

Action on the resolution was blocked by Senator Norris (R) of Nebraska.

The Glass resolution would go one step farther than repeal. It would insert a new clause in the constitution, vesting control over the liquor question to the states but prohibiting the return of the saloon.

The Glass amendment would be ratified by state conventions, rather than the legislatures of the various states.

Glass has been, for years, an ardent dry.

"Section 1—Article XVIII of the amendments to this constitution is hereby repealed. The sale of intoxicating liquors within the United States or any territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof for consumption at the place of sale (commonly known as a saloon) and the transportation of intoxicating liquors into any state, territory, district or possession of the United States in which the manufacture, sale, and transportation of intoxicating liquors are prohibited by law, are hereby prohibited."

"The congress and the several states, territories and possessions shall have concurrent power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

"Section 2—This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the constitution by conventions in the several states as provided in the constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the states by the congress."
