"As far back as 1925 Professor Warren Thompson, in his brilliant analysis of the population problem, insured large, and in a sured and in a sured and Germany as danger spots of the world. These three nations retuse to control their way, but as far back as 1788 an English sociologist put forward much the same theory. He said that porery and distress were unwoldable, since spoulations increased by leaps and bounds white means or substitutions were increasing at a much sower rate. He said that war, and bounds while steam of almost were inferesting at a much alower rate. He said that war, ratine and disease, and as they were, had their uses as the Three Horse-nen who, rode herd on populations. A little later he nominated a Fourth Horseman which he called moral re-straint. Mankind, he meant, was becoming aware of the social conse-quences of procreation out of wed-lock and of assuming the bonds of holy matrimony without means of supporting a family. There is, we suppose, no great dif-ference between the Stanger theory and the Maithussian theory except at to mood. Mathius appraised civit-

There probably are about as many definitions of fasclars as there are fascists and anti-fascists. The word is hard to define for it overs a multitude of sins, is comparatively new afid in a continuous state of flux. But if we were ordered to have a try at defining the essence of it in capsulo form, we'd say it was the subordination of the free processes of thought and action to one man's will.

Education Has Failed Society And Democracy

We Need To Return To the An-cient Principles and Hand-To Mouth Practices.

Dear Six:

Democracy and civilization are undergoing their supreme teat. Will they be able to endure, withstand and crarecome the powerful menter. that how face them! Communism, Nazism, Pacisan and American Athesian are all working under the Stars and Stripes. Propagandists of these enemies are fevertably at work in this nation, sowing their seed in povernment hallof, in labor gatherings, in schools and churches, through press and radio.

Democracy and civilization cannot be saved by higher education. Zducation, which has increased in expenditures for teachers and institutions and equipment for the past 40 years more han 1000

Just as I lenderly speared a sunny egg with my fark, a waitress said. 'I think he deserved to be killed.' Bhe was speaking of Brigadier', General Denhardt, who until his death was being tried in Kentucky for the slaying of the Clarr borys' latter. But the Oarrs book the matter into their own hands and shot down Denhardt on the street-before the course had completed hearing of the case against him.

Released on ball, the Oarrs have been cheered and greeted as public heroes. Perhaps hisy have ful us of a dangerous criminal. No one can know, for Denhardt's guilt had not been astablished.

Any member of the Kian in Alabama in 1922, whether he actively participated in night riding, assassination and aron or not, condoned these lawiese practices by his membership. In the language of the law he was an accessory before the fact. The Kian came into communities where Protestant, Catholic, Jew and Negro had lived in peece. It turned these communities into armed camps, It set heighbor against neighbor, friend against friend, and crested, a ridin of terror. If you go halo these communities today they have not yet recovered. There were man in the flouth who tought the Kian then, at the ride of their physical and political lives. It took a great deal more course to fight the Kian in Alabama in 1922 than it does to fight the cultilet in a New Deal Compress. But Mr. Black was not one to the control of the control of the principles.
