NATO Atomic 'Stockpiling' Considered

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States is studying the possibility of providing the North Atlantic Treaty Organization with a stockpile of atomic weapons.

This is a possible answer, Dulles made clear at a news conference, to the objection of some European allies that a cut-off in atomic weapons production under a disarmament program would deny them such weapons permanently.

Britain and France especially have indicated such fears. Dulles said he thinks it would be more proper to set up a NATO stockpile than to hand weapons over to individual countries.

He said he thinks the NATO atomic arsenal could perhaps be created without a change in U. S. law by placing it under the command of Gen. Lauris Norstad as the American military chief in Europe. Norstad is also NATO commander.

Citizens Approve Extension 3 To 1

Service Ban To New Rim Area Seen

By DICK YOUNG
Charlotte News Staff Writer
A policy to require that areas desiring city services first be taken into the city was being advocated here today.

Councilman Herbert H. Baxter told The News he favors requiring outside applicants for water and sewer services to agree to come into the city as one of the conditions for extending the services.

City Manager Henry Yancey also questioned the wisdom of extending water and sewer facilities beyond the boundaries approved in yesterday's city limits extension election.

Mr. Yancey said: "It is gratifying, of course, that the all-out effort to extend the city limits was successful. Since this territory will not be annexed for two and one-half years, the question arises as to whether or not it would be wise policy for the city to refuse to permit the extension of water and sewer services beyond the boundaries of the territories to be annexed, for if this is permitted we will have another perimeter area and the same problems to cope with again before the annexation just approved becomes effective."

CITED AS REASON

It was pointed out that one of the reasons for opposition to limits extension was that many people are going to Raleigh to receive some city services.

Mr. Baxter said: "I have all along been strongly in favor of requiring our outside neighbors to come into the city in order to obtain and enjoy city services such as water and sewer."

"If the Council would require (and I shall propose it) that all territory to be served by municipal water and sewer facilities shall first be brought into the city we would avoid the controversy and bitterness we have experienced in recent weeks."

"Should that plan be followed we would be relieved of the necessity of going to Raleigh for a special act authorizing an election and would avoid the fight that developed in the last session of the legislature."

CONTINUOUS EXPANSION

"And, too, we would skip the local court overruns that stir up animosity and we would have continuous expansion through annexation."

Word Awaited On Extension

NEW YORK (AP)—The executive committee of the Billy Graham crusade will announce Saturday night whether it will extend the crusade an additional two or three weeks.

The committee intended to meet today to consider the extension but postponed its meeting until after the Friday night service in Madison Square Garden.

The decision will be made known at a giant outdoor rally in Yankee Stadium Saturday night.

FINANCE STUDY Bill Defeated

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee today killed, on a straight party line 87 vote, the Eisenhower bill to set up a presidential commission to study the nation's finances.

Red 'Genius' Finds Neat Quota-Beater

MOSCOW (AP)—A Russian railroad engineer named Vorobov is described as a genius by seven of his fellow workers in the railway newspaper Gudok — he has discovered that water and even fresh air can be shipped in tank cars to meet his quota for "liquid" freight.

In the Soviet Union everything is done by plan, and the number of fares a cab driver is supposed to pick up, or the tons of coal miner must dig, success in meeting the quotas is rewarded by honors and bonuses.

City To Be In 200,000 Class In '60

(More election stories on the second front.)

By JULIAN SCHEER
Charlotte News Staff Writer

Charlotte started machinery today to make the city the undisputed king of the Carolinas.

A total of 21,805 city and perimeter residents streamed to the polls yesterday and voted 3 to 1 for city limits extension.

The vote: 16,582 for, 5,223 against.

Perimeter area residents indicated they did not want in, but the overwhelming vote by Charlotte residents will add 31 square miles and approximately 32,000 citizens for the city.

The new residents, added to the city's estimated 160,000 population, are expected to put Charlotte in the 200,000 class in 1960.

EFFECTIVE IN 1959

Extension becomes effective Dec. 31, 1959. Meanwhile, city officials were making plans today to move into the perimeter area with city services and facilities at that time.

Results yesterday left no question as to the stand of the voters. City voters were 15,139 to 963 in favor of extension, while perimeter residents opposed the extension by 4,200 to 1,443.

The overall margin was 3 to 1 and followed closely the News estimate of last week. A News telephone survey Thursday predicted the big turnout and winning margin.
