Dear Abby...
Boyfriends Pay Her Way

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor of mine has had four husbands and she isn't even 40 yet. She has a boyfriend for everything. One pays her rent. Another one lets her drive his car. Another painted and papered her house (material and labor) and she bragged that all she had to give him was lunch and a few laughtery kisses. She sees the rent-payer during the daytime and she has a bus driver (she calls him her "roomer") staying three nights. I don't know how she gets away with it. Don't you think somebody ought to tell those suckers the score?

NEIGHBOR: Don't waste any sympathy on the "suckers." Some men don't care about the score as long as they're in the game.

DEAR ABBY: How do you find out a boy's religion without embarrassing either of us? I am not allowed to go to the house of a different religion and I have a terrible time finding out sometimes whether I should even start to like him.

PUZZLED: If you are interested in a boy there is nothing wrong with asking him what church he goes to.

DEAR ABBY: I am 69 years old and my wife is 65. Over a year ago my accountant advised me to apply for Social Security. I took his advice and draw $100 per month. I added my wife to do the same, but she refuses. Her reason is that we have enough income to keep us and it is not honest to take this money from the government when we do not need it. We are honest, God fearing people and do not want to do wrong. Please advise us in your column.

DEAR GEORGE: There's nothing dishonest in accepting Social Security. Eligibility depends on one's age, not one's degree of necessity. If it's George with Uncle Sam, it should be George with George's wife.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I went over to my mother's house. While we were there my sister and her fiance and my wife and I started a card game. My sister and her fiance got into a little argument and he slapped her face. I didn't rough him up. I just told him what I thought of him and he left. My wife and I have had a lot of fights over this. She thinks I was wrong for hitting in. But I felt as long as he wasn't her husband yet, he had no right to slap her face. Who was right?

DEAR ERNIE: You were right to voice your disapproval—and by the way, a slap in the face between lawful-wedded mates is no more acceptable than a slap in the face between lovers. (These are lovers?)

CONFIDENTIAL TO PEARL: Kill her with kindness and don't let your conscience bother you. A cat has nine lives.

ASHEVILLE (AP)—The first general session of the 30th annual Southern States Antiquarian and Exposition opened today.

The South Carolina Industrial Commission is holding its 20th annual legislative safety conference in conjunction.

The conference is aimed at examining methods for accident control.

PERSUASIVE CUSTOMERS
BACINE, Wis. (AP)—A woman who advertised a used television set and an electric mixer for sale for $53 complained to police after two unidentified men called at her home and forced her son to accept only $23 for the appliances.

HEART STUDY
NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Beth Israel Hospital here has been recording electric currents in heart muscles of newborn babies. The research is aimed at uncovering basic knowledge of the development of the human heart.
